IBSEN NOT SICK.

Working on Drama Which He Hopes Will Rank Even Higher Than His Doll's House.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Mary Shaw, the actress, is in receipt of a letter from Heinrich Ibsen, the Danish dramatist, in response to a cablegram which Miss Shaw recently sent to him condoling with him on his ill health.

Ibsen in his letter accepts his correspondent's condolences, but adds that the report that he is in ill health emanates from his enemies, the truth being that he is in better health than he has been for many months. Ibsen says also that he is at work on a new drama, which he hopes will take even higher rank than his "The Doll's House." His advanced age, he says, further, is all that prevents him from visiting America, which he would like very much to do.

Kelley of this city has received a cablegram from Cardinal Merry del Val in response to greetings sent to the Pope by the Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute, saying His Holiness graciously accepts the homage and sends him and the Young Men's Institute his apostolic blessing. Kelley also received an autograph letter from Archbishop Falconio, Papal Delegate at Washington, expressing sincere appreciation for the fealty of the Young Men's Institute to the Holy Father and the Catholic Church, and adding his prayer that God may grant to the organization the gift of holy perseverance and bestow His choicest blessing.

THE BALKANS.

SANGUINE SULTAN.

Says End is Near of Rebellion.

So Satisfied With Situation That He is Going to Start Anew on Reform Scheme.

Turks are Victorious Everywhere According to Advices from Troubled Districts.

On the Other Hand, Reports from Sofia Indicate That Moslems are on the Run.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Sept. 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Daily Mail's correspondent at Sofia telegraphs: "One of the revolutionary chiefs has informed me that the revolutionists are massing thousands of men at various points on the frontier, and their laboratories are working incessantly to replenish their stock of bombs and explosives. They do not count much on war between Turkey and Bulgaria, but on the day they hear that the meeting between the Czar and Emperor Francis Joseph has not had the desired result for Macedonia, the world will witness the beginning of massacres, burnings and destruction, compared with which the Turkish atrocities will seem child's play.

"'The banner of revolution,' my informant says, 'will be unfurled in all the border districts. Every city and village, whether the inhabitants are friends or foes, will be destroyed and such a state of anarchy will be caused that the Turks will step out voluntarily and leave the country to the Macedonian survivors. We have selected the frontier districts for these final operations, so that Europe may hear the despairing cries of the dying nation which the Turks would stifle.'"

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In an audience with M. Zinnovieff, the Russian Ambassador, Friday, the Sultan expressed his regret at the excesses committed by the Turkish troops in the vilayets of Monastir and Adrianople. He said that orders had been sent to the authorities concerned to prevent their repetition and he gave the Russian Ambassador to understand that the guilty parties would be punished.

The German Ambassador, Baron Von Bieberstein, also had an audience with the Sultan, who showed himself most optimistic. The latter declared that the insurrection was drawing to a close.

In fact, it had already been suppressed in some districts and the Porte would, therefore, immediately issue proclamations announcing the resumption of the application of the reform scheme.

After the granting of these audiences an extraordinary council of ministers was held at Yildiz Kiosk, and the deliberations were continued on Saturday. It is understood that the council drew up fresh instructions in the sense of His Majesty's declarations.

Official dispatches from the Vali of Salonica, Monastir and Adrianople report numerous encounters, which resulted in favor of the Turks.

LOCAL AUTONOMY.

SULTAN WOULD CONCEDE IT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Sept. 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Balkan situation presents few features this morning. The German Emperor's influence at Vienna is said to have been thrown in favor of allowing the Sultan the utmost freedom in suppressing the insurrection. Both Turks and Macedonains claim the victories in the daily encounters. A report from Sofia states that Bulgaria's military preparations are reaching the stage of perfection that will enable the concentration of 200,000 men on the frontier within a week, and the stock of provisions, weapons and ammunition are rapidly becoming efficient.

According to a dispatch from Constantinople to the Daily Telegraph, the Sultan is so firmly resolved to avoid a war that on the report that France was sending a fleet to Turkish waters, and again when it was stated that Bulgaria was mobilising, he drafted a decree forbidding massacres in Macedonia and conferring more extensively local administrative privileges than had been demanded by the insurgents themselves, but on each occasion finding the rumors unfounded, the decree was rescinded. It is believed, however, that should any power threaten a demonstration in Turkish waters, the decree will be signed.

The Sofia correspondent of the Daily Telegraph gives a similar report that the Sultan is ready to concede local autonomy, but will not grant a Christian Governor to Macedonia. Instead he would propose a mixed commission composed of Turks, Macedonians, Bulgarians, Greeks and Wallachians, to administer the provinces. The Servian newspapers are discussing the probability of a reconciliation with Bulgaria on the basis of free trade between Servia and Bulgaria, and a defensive advance against the Turks.

A dispatch from the monastery of Rila, adds the Daily Telegraph's correspondent, says the Greeks are joining the revolt in the districts of Melnik and Demir-Hassir. The Constantinople correspondent of the Times reclares that he has good authority for asserting that several Servian bands hav ealreadq crossed the frontier, and are now fighting in Macedonia. If Bulgaria fights Turkey, he continues, it will be difficult for Servia to lag, and it is quite clear that a Turko-Bulgarian war would not be so one-sided as at first sight it appears.

TURKEY MAKES DENIAL.

REPORT OF OUTRAGES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Chekib Bey, the Turkish Minister, has received a dispatch from his government denying the reports which have been published in certain European newspapers that the reserves in garrisons at Pristina, Noviabasar, Novelchtrino, Zennitche, and Metrovitza are engaged in aggressions against the Christian inhabitants in those places, and are committing acts of profanation in the churches. The Minister's advices are that in response to inquiries made by the Porte of the authorities at those cities the reply was that the publications referred to are without any foundation whatever, and that the soldiers always observe the rules of military discipline.

NOT AN ULTIMATUM.

BULGARIA EXPLAINS ITS NOTE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SOFIA, Sept. 20.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Some apprehension having apparently been created owing to a misunderstanding regarding the precise meaning of Bulgaria's last note to the powers, explanations have been given to some diplomatic agents here that the memorandum was not intended as an ultimatum, but was rather in the nature of an appeal for the intervention of the great powers before that intervention should be too late. The Bulgarian ministry, it was stated, was determined to maintain its attitude of neutrality up to the last moment, but it feels the impossibility of standing by indefinitely while the Turks exterminate the Bulgarian element in Macedonia.

The government's position is rendered increasingly difficult by the attitude of the Macedonian population in Bulgaria, which, vigorously backed up by the revolutionary committees, is persistently endeavoring to force the government's hand and provoke hostilities with Turkey.

A special dispatch from the monastery of Rila, Bulgaria, says the condition of the besieged Turkish garrison of Melnik, sixty-five miles northeast of Salonica, is believed to be extremely critical. The Turks have withdrawn nearly all their forces from the districts of Danaoumana and Razlog to send to the relief of Melnik. As a consequence unusual tranquility prevails throughout the district of Razlog, where the authorities, lacking the support of the troops, have ceased their policy of persecution, and the boys are even furnishing bands with food.

The Turkish population is described as being in a state of great consternation.

A company of Turkish soldiers and Bashi Bazouks recently found the hiding place of a hundred families of refugees from the villages of Dupeni and Echla, near Resen. They captured the party, violated the women, and committed other atrocities.

The united bands of Monassieff and Michaelof have had an encounter with the troops near Demir-Kapu, sixty-two miles northwest of Salonica. The Turks had many killed, including two officers.

AMERICAN DIPLOMAT.

ENTERTAINED BY PRINCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SOFIA, Sept. 20.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Prince Ferdinand last night gave a dinner party at the palace in honor of J. B. Jackson, who, in the afternoon, had presented his credentials as the first American diplomatic agent to Bulgaria. The guests included F. E. H. Eliot, the British diplomatic agent, and the Bulgarian ministers and high officials. Prince Ferdinand proposed the health of President Roosevelt, speaking in English, and the court band played a selection of American airs.

Great satisfaction is expressed not only in official, but also in commercial circles, at America's action in establishing diplomatic relations with Bulgaria. The belief prevails that a great opportunity exists for developing a profitable export and import trade with the United States.

BURGLARS STRANGLE EUGENE FOUGERE.

FRENCH ACTRESS WHO FELL IN LOVE WITH JEFFRIES.

Report That She Was to Marry the Champion Once Circulated but Proved Baseless—Has Since Been Betrothed to Celebrated Lion Tamer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mlle. Eugenie Fougere, who appeared often in vaudeville in New York, was murdered by burglars in her villa at Aix-les-Baines this morning. So says a dispatch received tonight.

Mlle. Fougere and a woman companion were bound, gagged and strangled. The burglars then rifled the villa and escaped with many diamonds with which Mlle. Fougere was accustomed to adorn herself.

Mlle. Fougere's maid, who saw her mistress put to death and who, besides, was bound and gagged, went insane.

When James J. Jeffries, the pugilist, was showing himself at Folies Bergere, Fougere was illuminating the theater near-by. Often she sat in the box at the Folies Bergere, while Jeffries was on the stage, and a rumor spread that they were to be married. Returning to America Jeffries denied the soft impeachment, and said: "I am here to fight Sharkey, and have no time for Miss Fougere or anyone else."

More lately it was announced "officially" in a French newspaper: "There shortly will be celebrated in Berlin the marriage of the beautiful Fougere with Massinuleano, the celebrated lion tamer."

PLAUDITS FOR PALMA.

He Urges on the Veterans That to Bring Civil War Would Sacrifice the Republic.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Sept. 20.—[By West Indian Cable.] Speaking today at the village of El Caney, close to the scene of the battle between the Americans and the Spaniards, President Palma urged the Cuban people to guard the ideals they had obtained by means of intervention.

The Presidential party was enthusiastically received on arrival at El Caney. The Alcalde having remarked that the gathering was composed of veterans, President Palma assured them that he wanted to pay the army as badly as anybody, because the payment was not only an act of justice, but was necessary to the reconstruction of the country. Nobody loved Cuban independence more than himself, continued the President. The only way to sacrifice the republic would be to bring about a civil war. He believed there was not one veteran in a thousand who would not prefer to maintain the honor of Cuba, even to the extent of forfeiting his soldier's pay. The Cubans having accepted United States intervention as a means of ending their troubles, were under obligations to follow those ideals and prove themselves peaceable people.

Speaking of the appearance of the band of insurrectionists near Santiago, President Palma condemned the hidden instigators of the uprising. The Alcalde declared that no one within two leagues of El Caney had joined the band.

STILL AFTER "KID" CURRY.

CHINOOK (Mont.) Sept. 20.—Posses are scouring every section of the country in the vicinity of Bear Paw Mountains after Kid Curry, the leader of the gang, which held up two Great Northern express trains on July 3, 1901, and who escaped from Knoxville jail while awaiting transportation to the Ohio penitentiary to serve out a twenty-year sentence for forging signatures to the stolen bank bills obtained in the robbery.

NOT MUCH LIKE SADDLER.

HAVRE, Sept. 20.—The American tourist who, with his wife, was slightly injured in an automobile accident in Bolbre, seventeen miles from here, yesterday, and whose name was then given as Saddler, has been identified as James Van Vleet Scudder of Boston.

ENGLAND.

TWO FREE TRADERS LEAVE GOVERNMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Sept. 20.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Lord Balfour of Burleigh, Secretary of Scotland, and Arthur Ralph Douglass Elliott, financial secretary to the Treasury, have resigned, and their resignations have been accepted by the King. Mr. Elliott was not in the Cabinet. These two resignations make a total of four vacant Cabinet posts and one secretaryship at Balfour's disposal.

With the resignation of Lord Balfour and Financial Secretary Elliott, both strong free traders, it is understood that the ministerial resignations are completed, and apparently the Duke of Devonshire has decided to remain in the Cabinet.

It is practically certain that Austen Chamberlain, Lord Milner and Mr. Brodrick will take the exchequer, colonies and India portfolios, respectively, and the only surprise in the new appointments is likely to be the nomination of a strong man to the War Office to determine how far the recommendations of the South African War Commission can be carried out. Home Secretary Akers-Douglass tonight started for Balmoral, and he will probably be involved in the reconstruction changes.

Memorial to Late Queen.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—At the Parish Church of Crathie, three-quarters of a mile from Balmoral Castle, which was attended by Queen Victoria, King Edward, in the presence of the Prince and Princess of Wales, Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark, Premier Balfour, Lord Lansdowne, other ministers and a distinguished congregation, this morning unveiled a memorial bust of the late Queen Victoria, by the sculptor, Emil Fuchs, and two mural tablets in memory of the late Duke of Edinburgh and Empress Frederick of Germany. The three memorials were erected at the expense of the King.

THRONE TO LET.

Sulu's Sultan Goes Into Exile.

Fear of Torture to Death by His Enraged Subjects Causes Flight to Singapore.

His Picturesque Majesty Held Responsible for Fate of Naughty Datios.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MANILA, Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The famous Sultan of Sulu has fled to Singapore. Fear of his own Moro subjects is the cause of his voluntary exile. His subjects believe he betrayed them to the Americans and have threatened to use their bolos and a few other odd-looking knives, especially reserved for terrible punishments, if they ever get their hands on him.

The Sultan's departure was very sudden. He tried to bribe an American army officer to secure the release of two of his dattos, and when his money was refused and the dattos sent to prison his people turned on him.

Several of the Sultan's dattos and their men recently attacked a number of Chinese merchants at Parang, on the south side of the Island of Sulu. The dattos claimed that the Chinese owed them for rent, and when payment was refused they burned their stores.

The men who were in the attack, among them a prominent datto, were ordered before the American civil court for trial. They refused to heed the American government's mandate, but finally consented, after receiving the pledge of the Sultan that his life should be forfeited if they did not receive safety at their hands.

The datto and his followers were tried by an American court, and the datto was given a life sentence in Bilibid Prison, near Manila, and his followers less severe sentences.

The Sultan was much surprised and frightened when he learned of the datto's sentence. Dressing himself in his famous little pink silk jacket and gathering a retinue of two hundred followers, he set out for Jolo for the purpose of impressing the commanding officer there. The Sultan and his band arrived outside the gates of Jolo, and there an American soldier stopped him.

"You'll have to leave your arms outside if you want to go in," the sentry told the Sultan of Sulu.

The Sultan had to get inside, but his followers refused to lay down their barongs and arms.

"Then you can't go in," the sentry announced, calling out the guard.

Leaving all but a few of his followers, the Sultan rode to the commanding officer's house. He stated his business and blandly offered 10,000 pesos as a bribe for the release of his datto. The officer refused.

When he found the datto could not be released he begged to be allowed to leave the country where his ancestors for centuries had ruled. The officer thought that might be arranged, and finally the answer came from the powers at Manila "yes."

When the commanding general of the district arrived a few days later and requested the presence of the Sultan for a conference it was found he had disappeared.

A thorough search revealed that only five of his wives remained in the palace at Malbun.

A well-known American doctor, who will probably be the first civil Governor of Jolo, was asked what difference the departure of the Sultan would have on the people.

"The Sultan's staying or leaving makes absolutely no difference in Sulu land," he said. "In fact, the absence of almost any of the dattos would be felt more than his. He is of no consequence. It is true he can demand money from the people, and they fear him enough to pay, but any datto can and does do the same."

The Sultan has been without influence practically since the advance guard of the American army arrived.

RAGING RIVERS.

Recently Built Levee at Portage is Washed Away and Much Damage Suffered by Farmers.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Sept. 20.—At Portage, Wis., the Wisconsin River reached a stage of 12.2 feet at the government lock at noon today, when the city levee on the west side of the river broke, and the entire district between the Wisconsin River bridge and the Baraboo River, covering a space of six miles, is a sea of water. Seven hundred feet of newly-built city levee was washed away. Farm residences in the district are surrounded. Hundreds of acres of potatoes, corn and millet are ruined.

At Prairie du Chine the Mississippi and Wisconsin rivers have risen 24 inches during the last twenty-four hours. Crops on low lands along the Mississippi above the city are being flooded, and many acres of corn are already under water.

Good Government Positions Open to Kindergarten Teachers.

Mark Smith Abandons Hope for Early Statehood—New Panama Canal Proposal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Uncle Sam has taken upon himself the especial care of infants. Kindergarten teachers, at salaries averaging $100 per month, are wanted to train Filipino babes and Indian pappooses in the way they should go toward health and ideal citizenship.

The government has not had in several years so many good paying positions, covering trades and professions, that need filling as now. Announcement of vacancies was made Saturday through the Civil Service Commission, which complains that the supply of qualified persons does not begin to meet the demand. Even the less desirable of the positions are not to be despised, as the range of salaries is from $600 to $1600 a year. Some of the positions carry assurances of increases in pay from $2000 to $3000 annually.

Aside from the kindergarten teachers there are two unique vacancies to be filled at examinations, which are to take place on October 31. One is for a farmer who is "an industrial teacher with knowledge of irrigation." The demand for a person with these qualifications is the result of the enactment some months ago of the law to irrigate western lands. The salary to be given with it is $1000 a year and "found."

The other is for a dish culturist, with a salary of $900 to begin on. In a list of half a hundred professions and trades are draftsmen, computers, druggists, assistant surgeons, book-keepers, engineers, deck officers, farmers, industrial teachers, nurses, meat inspectors, physicians, etc.

TRYING TO GALVANIZE TREATY INTO LIFE.

SECRET AGENT OF COLOMBIA SAID TO BE IN WASHINGTON.

Alleged Mysterious Mission of Adolph Vogt—Herran Knows of No New Proposals—Beaupre Has Abandoned Hope of Acceptable Action at Bogota.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Agents of the Panama Canal Company are authority for the report here last night that the Colombian government has within the last few days made a new proposition to the United States about the Panama Canal, which is now under consideration by the President and Secretary Hay. Details of the proposition are withheld.

State Department officials say that they know nothing of it.

Closeted last night with Dr. Herran, the Colombian charge d'affaires, was Adolph Vogt, mining engineer, of Canea, Colombia, and business associate of Dr. Herran. The agents of the Panama Canal Company declare that this man is here in the double capacity of business man and secret agent for the Colombian government, bearing special instructions for Dr. Herran, which the latter will lay before the State Department tomorrow.

Vogt left Colombia on September 8. He says the people on the isthmus want the Panama Canal. He denies that he comes as agent of Colombia, but says he expects an extension of time for the exchange of ratifications of the canal treaty will be asked for.

Dr. Herran said he knew of no additional proposals from Colombia to the United States, and had received no instructions to ask for an extension of time. If Vogt brought him any instructions, Dr. Herran said, he forgot to deliver them.

It is reported that a desperate effort is being made by President Marroquin to obtain from the Colombian Congress permission by law to negotiate a treaty "on the best terms possible."

To get this permission it will be necessary to defeat the canal bill now on its second reading in the Senate, which provides for an increase all along the line in price, authority and privileges for the Colombian government.

Minister Beaupre has abandoned hope of ratification of the canal treaty. A cablegram reached the State Department from him dated at Bogota on Thursday, saying that there was no change in the situation; that the discussion appeared to be in a hopeless state, and that it was probable the Colombian Congress might not adjourn until October 20.

SENSATION IN BOGOTA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PANAMA, Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald's correspondent in Bogota cables that Senator Caro has caused another sensation in Congress by demanding from the Minister of Foreign Affairs certified copies of the instructions given to Dr. Herran, Colombia's representative in Washington, relative to signing the Isthmian Canal treaty, and of the secret convention between Colombia, Ecuador and Chili. The bill authorizing the negotiations of a new canal treaty with the United States was based on a report of the commission headed by Senator Quintero Calderon.

POPULAR GOV. OBALDIA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PANAMA (Colombia) Sept. 20.—Senator Obaldia today took over the functions of Governor of Panama. The event was the occasion for a great popular demonstration by all parties. It is thought the appointment of Gov. Obaldia will perhaps exert influence against secessionist ideas, not only because he is a native of Panama, which fact engaged for him the sympathies of all, but because the appointment is a part of a general plan, the result of which will be the election of Gen. Reyes to the Presidency, and the approval of a canal treaty satisfactory to the United States.

All the speeches delivered at today's functions, not only by Isthmians, but by natives of the rest of the republic, demonstrated that the inhabitants of Panama are in favor of the treaty.

DEMOCRATIC DEMAGOGY.

PLAN ATTACK ON PRESIDENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is said that the Democrats in the Senate will introduce a resolution soon after Congress convenes, demanding information about the alleged practice of the President in obtaining and using special trains and special cars from various railroads, and paying nothing for the service. The resolution has been prepared, and only awaits discussion by the Democrats before it is put in final shape.

It recites the fact that the public press of the country, and particularly a portion of the Republican press of the country, has openly charged that the President paid none of the expenses of his trip to the Pacific Coast by special train, which lasted sixty-six days, and covered 22,000 miles, at enormous cost, but that these expenses of every kind, including wines, liquors and food, were paid by the railroads over which the train ran. Continuing, the resolution calls attention to the frequent other trips of the President since he succeeded Mr. McKinley, and then demands information as to the expense of these trips.

The reason for the resolution is the discussion aroused by the Pacific Coast trip. It is stated in the preamble that it does not seem credible to the Democrats, at least of the Senate, that the President of the United States would accept complimentary transportation and food and drink and service from the railroads, and that the Senate desires to know if its faith in the President in this particular is unwarranted.

Should the resolution be introduced it would indicate the crying need of the Democrats for campaign material, as the President has only followed the practice established by his predecessors for many generations back.

PATRIOTIC KOSSUTH.

His Resolute Stand Has Done Much to Relieve Seriousness of Political Situation in Hungary.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VIENNA, Sept. 20.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Count Hedervary, who placed his resignation as Hungarian Premier in the hands of Emperor Francis Joseph some time ago, had audiences with the Emperor both yesterday and today, which, it is rumored, have led to the solution of the Hungarian Cabinet crisis, and a ministry will be formed either by Count Julius Andrassy or Koloman Szell. Should this news be confirmed it will be due to the correct and patriotic attitude of Francis Kossuth and his party. Kossuth and his party declared resolutely against anything in the shape of a revolution, and even forbade any street demonstration on the anniversary of his father's birthday.

It is understood that the semi-official communication made yesterday explaining away the unfavorable army order issued by the Emperor on September 11, will be issued in the form of an imperial autograph rescript addressed to Count Hedervary, and this proof that the Emperor did not desire to ruffle Hungarian susceptibilities will be emphasized by another Imperial visit to Budapest as an indication of his continued confidence and good-will.

RAN INTO HAND CAR.

DENVER (Colo.) Sept. 20.—A special to the News from Colorado Springs says that a Rock Island passenger train, running with extra speed to make up lost time, ran into a hand car on which five people were riding, and as a result of the collision Mrs. James L. Roberts, aged 50, is dead, and her daughter, Susie, aged 22, is seriously injured.

POLITICAL.

LITTLE BOOM FOR GORMAN.

Cullom Gives His Brother Senator a Lift.

Intimates That He is the Logical Democratic Candidate.

He Says No Chance for Gen. Miles Either for the First or Second Place.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Cullom returned to Chicago yesterday from his trip through the West, and at the Auditorium Annex devoted half an hour in the afternoon to a discussion of national politics. He intimated that he thought Gorman was the logical Democratic candidate for President. Of the situation in Illinois he would say little, being particularly reticent on the question of the merits of the several gubernatorial candidates.

"But as to the national situation," he added, "it is different. Although I have been in the West for some time, and have not talked with any national figures in politics, I have tried to keep in touch with things. I have met many men prominent in local affairs in California and other parts of the West, and I feel that I understand their sentiment. Among Republicans only one name is mentioned for the Presidency—that of Theodore Roosevelt. But I think this is true all over the country. Opposition by labor leaders? I do not think that is serious or that it will last. A man in Roosevelt's position cannot satisfy everybody at all times.

"What do I think of Cleveland as a Democratic candidate for President? He undoubtedly would be a strong man. He has the confidence of the people, and from the Democratic point of view would make a good President. But Gorman is a shrewder politician than Cleveland, and possesses many qualities that Cleveland does not.

"Is he a broad-gauge? Yes, every bit. Moreover, I am convinced that Gorman has the real welfare of the nation deeply at heart. I learned that at the time the Wilson tariff measure was up for passage, for it was he who saved our Amendments to that bill, and prevented it from becoming a law, an absolutely free trade doctrine. This, in spite of his own avowed tenets.

"Besides this, Gorman is a powerful man in executive matters. His management of Democratic caucuses has demonstrated this beyond the shadow of a doubt. I recollect one in particular, where, in half an hour after he had taken charge, he had a stronger organization among the Democrats than had been known there in a year. Yes, Gorman would be a strong candidate and a powerful opponent."

The Senator shrugged his shoulders and smiled when the name of Miles was suggested. "There is not the slightest chance in the world that the Democrats will nominate him for President," he said. "Nor for Vice-President, either, for that matter. In my opinion, the name of an army or navy man on the ticket would not help either Republicans or Democrats."

CLEVELAND'S DANGER FLAG.

COUNTRY GOING TO BOWWOWS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to former President Cleveland, trusts and monopolies are causing the ruin and decay of the rural districts of the country, and in that way are menacing the prosperity and existence of the nation.

In the current number of the Saturday Evening Post Cleveland declares that the trusts are seeking to control or strangle small business enterprises and occupations which formerly created the healthy, robust independence which was the great characteristic of rural districts.

Following the growth of the trusts' influence in the country districts, he says, are the political indifference of those who have been crushed in business, and the increased power of the bosses, the unscrupulous manipulators of politics for ignoble ends. He continues:

"Agencies of monopolists and political bosses, usually radiating from the larger centers of population, meet no longer the opposition of rural independence in political opinion, intelligently conceived and patriotically held. They easily enlist in their service those who gained the confidence of their neighbors when their political advice was based on patriotic reasons, and these are kept in line with the interests of their employers, by promise of partisan benefits.

"It would be held effrontery even to suggest that political action either in our cities or in rural communities has become utterly unpatriotic or corrupt; but it would be foolhardy to deny that the purity and integrity of our suffrage is threatened.

"With the sordidness and greed that infest our cities, and their exhibition of indifference to the obligations of good citizenship on one hand, and with the decadence of rural political independence, tending toward the loss of patriotic effort on the other, who will say there is no danger that the body politic will languish from lack of disinterested devotion and watchful care?"

Speaking of recent incidents in cities, Cleveland says:

"A perfect mania has broken out in our cities for indugence in tremendous and often unsubstantial business schemes, while far extended aggregations of business establishments creating an immense margin of baseless capitalization are quite the order of the day.

"Unusual extravagance and ostentatious display of newly acquired or fictitious wealth invite the dissatisfaction and envy of those obliged to work and economize in order to live moderately; and stubborn contests between labor and capital, generated in our cities, spread their distressing results everywhere throughout the land.

"This combination of social, political and industrial dislocations has caused grave apprehension among thoughtful citizens, and their fears are aggravated as they contrast present unpromising conditions with the incidents of an earlier American life, when simplicity, genuineness and contented industry were valued and cherished as the happy possessions of an independent, frugal and practical people."

HONOR THE MEMORY OF IRISH MARTYR.

CLAN-NA-GAEL COMMEMORATES EMMET CENTENARY.

Resolutions Passed Pledging the Organization to Work for the Establishment of an Irish Republic—Oration Delivered by Former Senator Towne.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The Academy of Music was filled to overflowing tonight by a meeting held under the auspices of the Clan-na-Gael, to commemorate the centennary of the martyrdom of Robert Emmet.

The auditorium was draped with American and Irish flags and the national spirit found expression in continued applause as the speakers dwelt upon Ireland's wrongs and the hopes of Ireland's sons. State Senator Victor U. Dowling presided.

Resolutions were passed declaring the only proper settlement of the differences between Ireland and England to be the abolition of English rule in Ireland and pledging the Clan-na-Gael to work for the establishment of an Irish republic.

The orator of the evening was former United States Senator Charles A. Towne of Minnesota, who pictured the scene of Emmet's death, which he declared was one of the most pathetic tragedies in all history.

"It is a hopeful spectacle," he said, "for the man is the incarnation of an idea, and that, please God, nothing can ever kill."

After referring to the incident of the executioner lifting Emmet's severed head and crying out, "This is the head of a traitor," the speaker continued:

"That was one hundred years ago, and we are assembled here tonight to do honor to the memory not only of a traitor, but of one whose name has been written among the foremost martyrs for the cause of liberty. So long as there is injustice the Irish will resent it. We are here to renew the allegiance to the cause for which Emmet bled. We are here to reaffirm our fealty to that heroic principle upon which the American republic was founded and upon which Emmet wished to found an Irish republic, namely the natural right of every nation to have the guidance of its own affairs. The right to independence is just as inherent in the nation as the right to life and liberty is in the individual. The highest right in the world is to maintain the nation's liberty and the obligation to maintain it dwarfs all other duties."

CARNEGIE HALL MEETING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Seven thousand persons gathered in Carnegie Hall tonight to do honor to the memory of Robert Emmet under the auspices of the United Irish League. Great enthusiasm was displayed throughout the evening.

Among those present were Mendez Capote of the Cuban Senate and Gen. Menocal of the Cuban Finance Committee. Tomas Estrada Palma, son of the Cuban President, was on the platform with his American wife. Young Palma was introduced and acknowledged the honor with a brief speech.

"I can only offer my sympathy and that of the Cuban people to the Irish nation in its oppression," the Cuban said. "I hope some day that Ireland will take its place among the independent nations of the world along with my own beloved country."

William Temple Emmet, a great-nephew of the Irish martyr, was present, as was Theodore Wolf Tone Maxwell, grandson of Wolf Tone. The members of the family of Thomas Addy Emmet were also present. Rev. Charles McCready presided.

In a speech eulogizing Emmet, Robert Emmet O'Donnell offered the resolutions of the meeting. The resolutions called attention to the land bill victory and thanked the United Irish League for its work in that direction, and pledged the sympathy and active support of American Irish to the fostering of the principles of Robert Emmet and the fruition of his ideals. The vote was taken by rising.

The oration of the evening was made by John F. Finerty of Chicago, American president of the United Irish League. The three things that caused the failure of Emmet's rising, he said, were carelessness, treachery and knibriety, and he added: "Any Irishman who on a mission for his country gets drunk, deserves to be shot."

"It is a mistake to suppose that the dying request of Emmet that his epitaph be not written until his country was independent, has been altogether literally obeyed," he continued, "because no epitaph can be written all at once and, although Emmet perished, he was succeeded on other lines by leaders like Daniel O'Connell, who won the Catholic emancipation and the abolition of tithes; by John Mitchell, William Smith O'Brien, and the Fenian Brotherhood, under Kickham, Luby and O'Leary and by Charles Stewart Parnell, Michael Davit and John E. Redmond.

"Ten letters constitute the name of Robert Emmet and of this Catholic emancipation forms the first; the abolition of tithes the second, disestablishment of the English church the third; the extended franchise the fourth; the first land bill the fifth; the Ashburn land act the sixth; the establishment of the land courts the seventh; the establishment of the county councils the eighth, and the passage of the land purchase bill, the latest enactment, the ninth. There remains but one more letter to be written, and that is the national independence of Ireland, and that is bound to come and cannot long be delayed."

Charles R. Devlin, M. P., representing Galway in place of Col. Lynch, the Irishman sentenced to life imprisonment because he fought with the Boers against England, was the last speaker.

Mr. Devlin spoke on contemporary English politics. When he mentioned Joseph Chamberlain's name, the audience hissed.

"As one of your papers said today," Mr. Devlin said, "Chamberlain was riding for a fall and he got it. Chamberlain got his fall, and he will never rise again. And the reason was that he denied Ireland her rights. Lord Rosebery resigned and he has never risen again. We have seen the last of Chamberlain."

LABOR.

PRESIDENT GETS ADVICE.

Chicago Laborites Tell Him What to Do.

Nine Thousand Word Letter in Regard to Miller Case.

Sam Parks After Buchanan. Gen. Chase Gives Unionists Food for Thought.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—President Roosevelt today was voted by the Chicago Federation of Labor a 9000-word letter of advice, in which fault is found with the President's attitude on the question of open shops. The letter was prompted by the decision of the President in the Miller case, in which the President said that Miller or any other man must not be discharged from the government printing office on account of non-membership in the union.

"Deliciously unaware of the hypocrisy of the world of finance, honest and humane, but uninformed," were some of the clauses used to describe the President in the long letter of the open shop committee.

Its opening paragraphs contained a definite disclaimer of any wish to attack Pres. Roosevelt, the blame for the Chief Executive's attitude in the Miller affair being placed on a "coterie of certain well-known interests which are constantly on guard around the White House."

The President was told that he fell into error in his view of the question, "because of that impetuosity, for which we love you." A copy of the communication will be forwarded to Oyster Bay at once, under date of Labor Day, September 7.

The reading of the letter before the federation meeting today occupied over an hour, and excited applause from the crowd of delegates.

NOT YET IN HAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OYSTER BAY, Sept 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary Loeb said tonight that the President had not received a copy of the resolutions adopted recently by the Washington Central Labor Union, in which the President was rebuked for what the Central Labor Union considered his hostility towards organized labor in the W. A. Miller case. It is not the President's intention to take up this matter of the Miller case until he returns to Washington. Nothing will be done about it here in Oyster Bay.

Charges reflecting on Miller's character have been made, and are now pending action by the administration. Consequently, anything that might be done now would be construed as either favoring or prejudicing Miller's case.

The Sylph, which has been in commission as the President's yacht all summer, left for Washington tonight, and will not return, as the President will not take any more trips on water during the remainder of his stay here.

LAST DITCH FOR PARKS.

HE MUST BEAT BUCHANAN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 20.—Sam Parks of New York arrived in this city tonight to attend the convention of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers which meets here tomorrow. His arrival aroused much activity among the delegates already here, an activity which presages a lively fight when the Committee on Credentials reports in the convention in the morning. Parks is a member of local union No. 2, which was suspended by President Buchanan after Parks's recent imprisonment, and another local union, No. 2 was established. The Executive Committee of the organization did not ratify the action of President Buchanan, and Parks, and his partisans assert that the action of the president is therefore null and void.

President Frank Buchanan of Chicago, who is an anti-Parks man, is a candidate for reelection. H. F. Donnelly of Albany, N. Y., a Parks supporter, is also candidate for president. The Parks and anti-Parks feeling will be manifest in every contest in the convention, and the side which gains the supremacy in the seating of the contesting delegations will probably control every important action of the convention.

Decided not to Strike.

OURAY (Colo.) Sept. 20.—At 2 o'clock this morning, after a bitter fight for over six hours, the local miners' union, by a vote of 150 to 50, decided that the mill men should not strike for an eight-hour day.

ILL-FATED LINARES.

Mexican City is in a Deplorable Condition as a Result of Prevalence There of Yellow Fever.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MONTEREY (Mex.) Sept. 20.—Dr. Roy Martin, quarantine inspector for the government, who recently returned from Linares, declares that the city is dead, commercially, and partly deserted on account of the prevalence of yellow fever. Although there are less than 200 cases in Linares, there are fully 2000 people sick with various diseases.

Latest advices from Victoria state that but twelve case of yellow fever now exist in that city.

W. W. Leonard, representative of the bridge and masonry contractors on the Monterey division of the Mexican Central Railroad reports a most deplorable situation among the construction camps along the line. He says that there is scarcely a camp without yellow fever, and that there are many deaths.

Tampico is largely diminishing the number of cases of yellow fever.

LAREDO'S QUARANTINE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Sept. 20.—This city still maintains a vigorous quarantine against Nuevo Laredo, Mex. Little news of a reliable kind can be secured from across the river.

United States Counsel Garrett, who arrived in Nuevo Laredo today, stated that he had examined several cases of the prevailing disease, and declares they are not yellow fever.

Expert bacteriologists of the Mexican government have arrived, and will investigate the cases in company with a yellow fever expert, who is expected to arrive from Washington tomorrow.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

James Mears Shoots and Fatally Wounds His Son-in-Law and Then Commits Suicide.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Sept. 20.—James Mears, 70 years of age, today fatally shot and wounded his son-in-law, Michael Crotty, 33 years old, and then sent a bullet through his own brain, dying instantly. Family quarrels were the cause of the crime.

A year ago Mears deeded some property to his daughter, Katherine, stipulating that she should not marry, and that she should provide for him until his death. Katherine was married to Crotty three months ago. Recently affairs in the household had not been running smoothly. Last Wednesday their domestic affairs were aired in the Police Court. Crotty, who had been arrested on a warrant issued to the old man for assault, was discharged.

Today, while Crotty and his wife were in the dining-room, Mears came into the room, and the quarrel was renewed. Crotty was standing at the window, when Mears stepped up behind him and began shooting. He fired twice, both bullets entering Crotty's back. Mrs. Crotty attempted to disarm her father, but he brushed her away and sent a bullet into his own brain. He died instantly. Crotty will probably die before morning.

WAVES AWAY CHARGES.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—A Brussels dispatch to the Times says King Leopold's reply to the note of the powers concerning the Congo State contends that the alleged cruelties are based on untrustworthy testimony, and repudiates the idea of arbitration as incompatible with his sovereign rights.

SHOT BY GAME WARDEN.

WILKESBARRE (Pa.) Sept. 20.—E. W. Campbell, one of the game wardens of Luzerne county today shot and probably fatally wounded Roman Dales, aged 35 years, near Campbell's lodge, two miles from Pittston. Dales was violating the game law.

LABORITES CANNOT PULL DOWN THE FLAG.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) Sept. 20.—A special to the Republican from Victor, Colo., says that as the non-union men who were brought from Minnesota to take the places of the striking miners were going to supper tonight they were surrounded by about 500 strikers who jeered at them as they walked along the street. A troop of cavalry was ordered to the scene and dispersed the crowd.

Today, delegations from the local G. A. R., and Women's Relief Corps visited Camp Gold Field and were entertained by the soldiers. In welcoming them Adjt.-Gen. Sherman Bell made the significant statement: "As long as the troops of the State of Colorado are in the field the American flag will be unfurled to float over this camp all fall, all winter, all spring and all next summer if necessary."

He was followed by Brig.-Gen. Chase, who said: "We are here to settle this strike and I am glad to say that we are going to stay until it is settled. It is for the best interests of the State of Colorado that this question be settled for all time, and we are going to do it."

The Stratton Independence mine was started this morning. Superintendent Cornish said that they had all the men that could be used at present. A number of men who formerly worked for him in Leadville, he said, had applied for places.

The union men claim that there have been a number of desertions from the ranks of the Duluth men. This is denied by members of the Mine Owners' Association.

C. C. Hamlin, secretary of the association, today reiterated his statement that the mines of the association would be opened even if it becomes necessary to import men for all positions.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON KILLED IN POLO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Nathan Swift, son of Louis F. Swift, the packer, died today from the effects of a blow on the temple with a polo ball at Onwentsia Field during a game.

The accident at first was thought to be trifling. Swift was playing in a contest in which his companions were Frederick McLaughlin, W. W. Rathbone, Al Farwell, Sidney Love, Walter Keith, R. R. McCormick and Charles Garfield King.

The ball which struck Mr. Swift was one that went in the air and from the mallet of Mr. Love. Swift did not appreciate his danger until too late, the glare of the sun preventing him from following the ball in its flight. When the ball hit him he did not fall from his saddle, and when his companions galloped to his side, he was at first inclined to make light of the injury. He was induced to dismount, but walked without aid from the field. Arriving home he complained of dizziness, and later went into a delirium, which was followed by his death.

The accident occurred yesterday afternoon. During the night an operation was performed to relieve a ruptured blood vessel near the brain. The operation which was performed at the country home of the Swift family, Westleigh, in Lake Cove, seemed to give relief, but the effect was only temporary. Three physicians worked over him until the end.

Nathan Swift was born in Chicago in 1881. He was an enthusiastic athlete, being especially fond of football and polo.

SMITH ABANDONS HOPE FOR STATEHOOD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Only a half-hearted fight will be made during the coming session in behalf of the Statehood Bill. The friends of this measure realize that a majority of the Senators are opposed to it, and that with the present complexion of that body there is no hope for Statehood. Ex-Delegate Mark Smith, who has borne the brunt of the fight for the scheme up to date, arrived in Washington today, and will remain here during the coming winter. He said today:

"My successor in Congress, J. F. Wilson, will introduce a bill in the House on the first day of the session, providing for Statehood for Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma. I do not believe, however, that the bill will be passed, as it is evident that the Republicans do not propose to take any chances of defeat in the coming Presidential election. I believe that the bill would have become a law at the last session, but for fear of its effect in the election for President.

"Our people will never consent to a consolidation of Arizona and New Mexico into one State. It is a proposition from New England to give four United States Senators to all that territory between the Gulf of Mexico and Gulf of California, a stretch of country as long as from New York to Florida. Every interest of Arizona is opposed to this scheme, and the people would prefer to have Arizona remain a Territory for fifty years more than to unite with New Mexico in this way."

Mark Smith says that the President's attitude toward Statehood has hurt him some in Arizona, where people were disappointed at his change of front.

THE inspiration that comes from a large audience is one of the things that is never lacking when the Methodist bishop preaches his annual sermon in Los Angeles.

When Bishop Earl Cranston wended his way to the platform in the First Methodist Church yesterday morning, through a mass of humanity that filled every nook and corner of the artistic structure, he was plainly impressed with the picture. The scenic effect of the people massed up against the richly-colored cathedral-glass windows, and filling with a sea of faces the space from the altar rail to the farthest corner of the gallery, running around three sides of the building, was most striking and inspiring.

The bishop's sermon was upon the great theme of the creation, and for the hour or more during its delivery he held the closest attention of the vast audience.

The bishop took for his text Job xiv, 15: "Thou shalt call and I will answer thee; thou wilt have a desire to the work of thy hands." Also, Genesis i, 31: "And God saw everything that He had made, and, behold, it was very good."

Having read the first three verses of the first chapter of Genesis, the bishop said: "This is one of the most wonderful compositions that can be found in any language. It is the account of the most stupendous event that ever happened; the briefest possible account of the creation. The omnicient Creator did not need to review His work from time to time as it might have been necessary for a finite builder to do.

"Without these chapters of Genesis the Bible becomes a very perplexing study; with them the whole book is coherent. Therefore I hold to the truth of these chapters of Genesis, challenged though they may be. I care not for the time; I stand for the facts. I look upon this old Book much as you might look upon the plans and specifications of your new house. Where is the man who would not care to study them for himself.

"God said let us make man in our own image; let us throw out into the world a new individuality and let us bear all the hazard that may attach to such a venture. He takes responsibility for the whole matter and challenges any one to find a fault in created man—behold, it is very good.'

"There is theology enough in this text to outfit a a dozen theological seminaries. Nothing has been more mad than the contest between science and revelation. The universe is one; God is its ruler; the Spirit its creator; man himself the bond between it and the Creator; there is no other bond between the Creator and the created other than nature. God's handwriting is the same in the Book as out of it.

"Now, my young brothers, here is some theology for you—and I wish every young minister in the conference might be here; God cannot afford to abandon the man he has made. In declaring it good he is bound to maintain it good by all the strength of His nature.

"What is the test of a good creation? We can take atest within our own intellectual grasp—the universe is too great. The test is not simply magnitude; it is the value of the thing for that for which it is intended. Remember that bread comes before music; you cannot till the soil with a piano. The test is in its adaptability to do the work for which it was made. Construction forever determines the type and usefulness of the article created.

"The law of the machine is built in the machine itself; it is all thought out before its construction is begun. What would you think of the man who would turn a locomotive into the field to harvest the wheat? You can't hitch four horses to a watch and call it a coach.

"God could not have made man without a plan. If God gave man superiority over everything else, it is because he endowed him for it at the creation.

"For what is man made? First, he is made to think, then to love, to worship and to grow. I find beyond that, he was made to aspire; his destiny is always onward and upward and to have dominion. Instead of that, alas, he is a fallen man."

The bishop then at some length talked upon the sophistry of the scientific and rationalistic theory of the creation and function of man.

"Infinite intelligence," he said, "needs no experience, and God did know when he made free man, what he was doing. It is unspeakable, that the Almighty was an adventurer. He has nowhere asked you or me to stand for what He has done; He stands for it all; it is good, very good.

"Somebody says that was before the fall; not a word of that record was writen until after the flood. No, no; you can't hide it that way in full view of all the record; with full knowledge of all that happened.

"A thinking machine is impossible; a thinking being would think himself into hell in twenty-four hours if he had not been made free. A machine is good for just one function and in doing that it is worn out. See what the human mind has accomplished because it is free and has aspirations. I'd give more for the one thrill I've had in a victory over one sum in mathematics than for a lifetime of the highest aspirations possible to any being lower than man.

"I stand here knowing enough of the love of God to know that He gave it that man might be free. God has bound himself by all the resources of the infinite to make good his declaration.

"The Lamb was in the foundation; salvation was built into the very fabric—no patch work, no splicing out; God's ideal man is immortal. Man is dead unles she can perform the functions for which he was created. Now comes regeneration, he must be made over—reconstructed. You may talk of regeneration till you die, but it will not come until you are made over—until you are born again. There is no less regeneration that that. The only thing that will work this regeneration in man is the Holy Ghost.

"The plan of human redemption is the factor of safety in the entire scheme in the whole building. God knew what He was doing; it is good—exceedingly."

Annual Missionary Sermon.

Before an immense congregation Rev. A. W. Adkinson of Long Beach delivered the annual missionary sermon at the First Methodist Church last night. Rev. Robert McIntyre, D.D., pastor of the church, presided and a large chorus choir furnished excellent music.

The speaker chose his text from St. John, iii:17: "That the world through Him might be saved." He said in part:

"The supreme purpose of God in the gift of Christ to the world was to save souls. God means that the world shall be saved through Jesus Christ.

"It was hard for the disciples to believe this, and yet they went out faithfully do the work. In spite of sword and fagot they carried on the glorious crusade. Then the persecution ceased and corruption crept in and the work went slowly, very slowly, forward for centuries. In the beginning of the eighteenth century there was a wonderful awakening and from 1800 to 1880 more people were converted than in all the previous centuries.

"The beginning of real Christian work, and is that time a million and a half souls, in pagan lands, have been brought to Christ. The gospel has not lost its power. The church has not lost its hold on God. Today you and I witness one of the grandest evidences of divine power as we look over the great missionary field.

"One hundred years ago almost every pagan land was closed against the missionary. All the host of Chinese converts have come in during the memory of men now living. When Admiral Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay upon the American nation fell the obligation to give those people a Christian education. The men behind the guns have done their work. Their duty is finished. Our work has been but scarcely begun. We are in the midst of 700,000,000 people who have not yet been Christianized. God will hold us responsible for the saving of these souls.

"One of the dangers, one of the weaknesses, is the seeming antagonism of the home and foreign missionary work. But they are not "home," they are not "foreign," they are just missions. The Philippine Islands and Alaska are both "home" and "foreign." The black man in the South is just as much entitled to the gospel blessing as the black man in Africa. We must help both. We are at last getting under one roof as one great family, having common needs and a common destiny. We must get a board enough to take in the whole world. It has been about fourteen or fifteen centuries since our ancestors landed on Britain's shores. They were pagans and barbarians, proud of their prowess in war and conquest. Whence comes the change in us. Those men met one day on the island with the ambassadors of Christ. That is what you and I owe to the Christian religion. We owe it all to Christ, but what are you and I doing for Him? Beloved, are we ready to give the best we have to Christ? There is work to do in China. There is work to do in India. There is work to do here in Los Angeles. Right over here in Utah we have one of the hardest missionary fields in the world. Young man, young woman, what are you willing to give to Jesus Christ? You can do nothing less than give your life to Him."

Criminality and the Home.

"Do not sin against the child," was the text from which the pastor, Rev. William Horace Day, preached yesterday morning at the First Congregational Church. He was presenting the relation between criminality and the home. He said, in part:

"The increase of crime and its cause is our first consideration. In 1890, for example, while the country was growing at the rate of 25 per cent. in ten years, criminal population grew 40 per cent. This is due not alone to the petty laws added every year to the statutes. A facetious pen has described Draco visiting our prisons and finding an Alabama man committed because he had jumped off a moving train; a Virginian boarding-house keeper in durance vile because he had neglected to post a sign in large Roman letters reading, 'Imitation Butter Used Here.' Certainly an observance of the letter of Roman law. Josiah Flynt in his novel, 'Ruderick Clowd,' depicts the combination of heredity and environment, which combine in breeding the criminal.

"What is the most important cause? The condition of the home leads the list. A striking parallel is furnished by the census statistics of 1880. While the population grew 30 per cent, drink and crime increased 38 to 82 per cent., respectively. Divorce, or the destruction of the home, also advanced 82 per cent., in exact ratio with crime. In the days of the patriarchs the family was held responsible for the individual's crime. Perhaps they understood a social law we have not utilized.

"State prevention of crime is the second step. We have not time to deal with the hardened criminal, only the cure attempted for the young. We have great reform schools, in the main carefully conducted, but with small result. No less have the growing effectiveness and skill in police, prisons and courts failed to prevent crime. The States has gone back of the crime and tried to nurture the homeless, from which one-half our criminals come, and subsidizes many orphanages and industrial schools. These, too, have done untold good, but we find they cannot accomplish the work we might expect of them.

"In a recent paper, Dr. Lindley, the president of the trustees of our school at Whittier, spoke of the weak side of the exclusively -institutional method. He recommended that the State appoint an officer who should try to place dependent and delinquent children in proper homes, and that the State pay a sufficient sum for their board to enable people of small means to adopt such children. He felt that present methods were inadequate, that the home is the true place for correction and development.

"The last point to be considered is the home, the great preventive. The establishment of the juvenile court is an attempt to apply the home solution to the problem. While it has been in operation too short a time to give a final judgment as to its effect, we are assured from other States that it has been a most important help. The machine-made child cannot ever equal the home-reared one. The institution, necessary as it is, cannot take the place of the more powerful home influence. Terrible as is a bad heredity, the power of the home is greater, and children had-born may become useful men and women. Acting upon this principle, the business of helping the homeless child to the childless home has become one of our most promising means of crime prevention."

The pastor then introduced the Rev. O. V. Rice of the Children's Home Society, who spoke of the special needs of the work, and of their work in finding the needy children and in getting settled in real homes. A generous offering was then taken.

Worship of Human Might.

A lesson of the influence of the gentle things in life upon the strenuous was what Rev. Robert J. Burdette sought to preach in his sermon yesterday at the Temple Baptist Church. He chose for his text: "And one of the elders said unto me: Behold the lion of the tribe of Judea. . . . And I looked and beheld a lamb." Rev. v. 5-6. He said in part:

"One hundred and thirty-four years ago there was born on the little island of Corsica a man whose life story reads more like a fable than even the pages of romance. A man of obscure family, handicapped by poverty, insignificant in physique; a man who fairly enslaved a nation whose language he never thoroughly learned; who changed the map of Europe at his own changing will; whose unsupported and opposed whim was the "concert of nations;" who broke the coalitions formed against him as a child breaks the toys of which it wearies; who made and unmade kings as though he were a god; who lifted his voice and the sun was swathed in powder smoke and who made a gesture, and peace laid her white hand on the black-lipped guns. A man whose god was power.

"Napoleon believed that God verily fought on the side of the strongest battalions. His cure for a mob was 'a whiff of grape,' his policy of pacification was the concentration of artillery. The heart of ice, the brain of fire, the hand of steel—this was the trinity that formed his soul. To this day men admire this mighty genius. Men might hate him, but they feared him, and fear is a tribute to power.

"It is an easier thing to get a boy to read of Alaric, and Attila, and Napoleon than to study those greater conquerors, Paul, and Carey and Judson. If you walk around the great city buildings of the City of Brotherly Love you will note on the plaza three statues—one of Gen. Reynolds, who fell at Gettysburg, after he had laid the foundation lines of victory; one of Gen. McClellan, and one of Stephen Girard. Two soldiers and one civilian. Under the patriotic commands of the two soldiers, at every rattling volley of musketry, every thundering roar of artillery, sobbing orphans sank to their knees and lifted their hands to heaven crying for pity. And the other man—the American merchant, turned his great wealth into a cradle and a shield for the fatherless boys who had laid their offering upon the altars of their country before they realized how priceless was that offering, even as a little child repeats its prayers from the mother lips long before it knows the vileness of sin, the need of mercy, the power of grace.

"We do right to build monuments to the memory of the men who loved so well the cause they deemed righteous and just, that they gladly died for it. Our hearts were less than human did we not erect here the statue of Grant and there the marble effigy of Lee; here Sherman and Sheridan; there Jackson and Johnston. But suppose one should say: 'Let us erect here in the heart of our city a monument to the memory of the missionary who died in India last month. Let us set up a statue of the home missionary who died in the hospital a week ago. Let us set up a statue of the school teacher who died at her post of duty. These people never killed anybody. They died for holy cause; they died nobly not to save one country, but to save the world.' People would laugh at the suggestion. They would say, 'Oh, we can't begin that sort of thing. That is too commonplace. The country would soon be a forest of monuments.' So heroism of the highest and noblest and purest type has become commonplace? Thank God for that. It speaks well for the race.

"I was present at a reunion of the survivors of the 'Philadelphia Brigade' some years ago, when the survivors of Pickett's division came up from the South as their guests. Less than forty years ago, had those two organizations faced each other it would have been the meeting of tornado and earthquake—the city would have been pallid with horror and the streets had run with blood.

"When last they met before this reunion, it was in the fierce death grapple, their hands at each others' throats, their bayonets seeking each others' hearts. What power was this—mightier than the mightiest human power—that gently unclasped the brown hands from musket stock and saber hilt, and knitted them together in the 'warm, strong clasp of friendship'? Ah, thank God, there is a power in His world mightier than hate.

"'Love is strong as death: many waters cannot quench love; neither can the floods drown it.' 'Thy gentleness,' the Psalmist sings, 'hath made me great.' This is the power mightier than navies of steel and shotted guns; stronger than ironclad injunctions and the bayonets of the State Guard. The only power that with equal authority can say to the toiler, 'Be content with your wages,' and to the employer, 'Rob not the poor, for Jehovah will spoil the soul of him that spoileth him.' We have subdued all things in the world—wind and wave and beast to our dominion. This might of gentleness is the power that will subdue us."

Memorial Baptist Church.

On Sunday morning, Rev. C. C. Pierce of the Memorial Baptist Church preached on "Conformity to the World" taking for his text, Romans xii: "Be ye not fashioned according to this world."

He said: "What a contrast between the man upon whom this world has put its stamp, and the man who has put his stamp upon the world. Our text teaches us that we must belong to the latter class. We must master the world, or it will master us. We are to live in this world, but we must live above it. We are to master it and put its temptations under our feet. There is no sadder sight than a life which having come into this world pure and fresh from the hand of God, has walked along the paths of this earthly career, and caught its sin and misery and pollution and weakness. How sad to be mastered by the sin of the world, to surrender our ideals, to live for something lower than the highest, to surrender our ideals, and being with the Romans, to 'do as the Romans do.'

"There is no sublimer sight on earth than that of a life that has placed the stamp of its beauty and strength and purity and power and courage upon the age and the times into which it has come.

"How easy is it to live the life of the former, how difficult that of the latter. Who of us has not felt the touch of the world? What heavenly ideal reared by God in our hearts has not been soiled and scarred, and sometimes shattered?

"This need not be so. There have been those who, coming into this world, have left the stamp of all that is great and good upon the world in which they have dwelt for a while, and leaving the world, have bequeathed an influence which has been undying in its power for good forever after. It was preëminently so with Christ. No man had ever fallen so low, but that he put himself by his side; no man was so despised, that he did not say to him, 'This day must I abide at thy house.' But no sin of the world ever contaminated him; he came forth from the furnace of every temptation with no smell of the fire upon him.

"We may possess this power if we will. In the presence of temptation we may grow great and strong. We should know this better, if we knew God's a will for us. To know God's will for us, to see what are His purposes for us, for the church, for the world, for all humanity, this would be to inspire us with his divine enthusiasm. This glorious result is to be brought about, says the apostle, by the 'renewing of our minds.' And our minds will be renewed, we shall get new impulses, new ideals, new purposes, new visions, and new powers, when we let the divine presence and companionship of Christ, of the truth of God, have its way with us."

The Modern Church.

Rev. C. J. K. Jones preached yesterday morning in the Church of the Unity on "The Modern Church." He said in part:

"Notwithstanding the church as an institution has been criticised, and condemned, too, for its many sins of commission and ommission, it still survives—potent now to comfort, to cheer, and lead the burdened and however faulty and imperfect, still ministers to those highest needs of the mind and affections of men, which are not reached by any other agency. Beneficent and helpful in a social and industrial wise as are all other fraternities and sodalities of men, not one of them can supplant the ministry of counsel, sympathy and spiritual life given by the church.

"It is much feared by many that the church is losing its hold upon the large majority of educated men and women in the enlightened nations. Statistics of the present status of the church world seem to support such an assertion. But that this state of things will continue, I do not believe. The broad and sound-minded man is essentially a worshiping being. The wider and fuller his knowledge and the more correct his reasoning processes, the more sure is he to be a man of reverent thought and of worshiping mood.

"That the church does not now command the allegiance it properly should, is due to the fact that so many of its representatives and sponsors have not kept pace with the development of the social and intellectual life of men among the advanced nations. The church has followed, and often protestingly, where it should have led. It has arrayed itself against the advance of modern science, and philosophy, combatting the demonstrations of knowledge and reason, when it should have welcomed them eagerly. The end of this suicidal policy is not yet, as the proceedings of all church conferences testify. When the modern church shall come to its own it will be of a different mood and action. It will be a church of the intellectually honest, and free men and women. A church of those who love all truth for its own sake. It will be a church of the widest hospitality to all ideas that can ennoble humanity. It will prove all things and hold fast to that which is good, the beautiful, the true, and the good will be its sources of inspiration. It will be a humanitarian church, with emphasis laid on the needs of man and not on his creed. It will be a worshiping church in which the heart as well as head shall find expression."

Critics of Christians.

In preaching upon the topic "To the Critic of Christians," at Simpson Auditorium yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. George Thomas Dowling, the rector of Christ parish, took for his text: "The dogs came and licked his sores."—Luke xvi, 21. He said:

"There are a great many people in the world today who are doing just that thing; they are trying to live on the sores of Christians. God sees the poor fellow, as he sits at the gate, sick and neglected, and He loves him; but these people look upon him with cynical eye, and they see not the man. They see not these hidden qualities which make him meet some day to rest in Abraham's bosom. There is only one clause in his whole biography that they have learned to read, and that clause is contained in the twentieth verse of this chapter—'full of sores.' And so they stand there, like those dogs in the eastern city, licking with infinite satisfaction these scabs of corruption.

"Occasionally we find them even in the church of God. They are usually people who have been a long time asleep, and, like Peter when he awoke in the garden of Gethsemane, they wake up cross, and grasping their sword, they feel it their first duty to cut off somebody's ear. But there are two kinds of revival awakenings. The first is that of the prophet, when he went out to weep under the juniper tres; a tree which bears blue berries. And he began immediately to condemn his brethren and to address the Lord as if he were the only holy man alive. He said, 'Oh, Lord, they have slain all thy prophets, and I alone an left.' And God said to him, 'Get up! Be a man! I have left 70,000 who have not yet bowed the knee to Baal.' How different this from the real spirit of religious revival! Do you remember on that last night before His journey along the sorrowful way, Jesus sat amid the gathering darkness, in that little upper room, with His disciples. And He sighed and said, 'One of you shall betray Me;' and not one of them asked, 'Lord, is it that man, or that?' but, 'Lord, is it I?'

"Last week I was reading the life of George H. Hepworth. His biographer tells us that once when he was conducting a prayer meeting in Dr. Armitage's chapel in New York City, some one got up and declared: 'Brethren and sisters, I have not committed a sin in twenty years.' And Dr. Hepworth answered, 'My brother, for twenty years you have been overdue in heaven. This world is not good enough for you. You better get out of it.' Now, I have met these perfect people sometimes, and the only difficulty I find is, that there is no living with them. I would rather have for my comrade the humble follower of Jesus Christ, conscious of his imperfections, but trying to do right, who has not ceased offering the prayer his Master taught him, 'Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us.' An old rabbi was once awakened by one of his twelve sons, who said, 'Behold, my eleven brothers lie sleeping, and I am the only one who awakens to pray in the still watches of the night.' And he answered, 'Son, you had better sleep, too, then wake to censure your brothers.' Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.'"

Dr. Dowling then proceeded to show that the critical judgments of such men, whether inside the church or out of it, were the result, first, of a false education; second, of false inferences from a few facts; and finally, of false motives.

Practical Politics.

Dr. B. F. Boller, at the Olivet Congregational Church, corner of Washington street and Magnolia avenue, preached last evening on "Practical Politics as Applied to City Problems and Ordinances and Their Enforcement."

"The term practical politics," he said, "has been abused and misapplied by the professional politician and chronic office seeker for his own benefit. When Joseph W. Folk of St. Louis began to turn the rascals out of the City Council and shut them up in jail he was warned by the old-line machine politicians that he was 'ruining his prospects.' He replied that his office was a trust conferred upon him by the people; that he was holding office to do his duty in serving the people, and not to work for reelection. He set to work deliberately to smash the machine and send some of those who run the machine to prison. The 'practical politicians' of the State Legislature, including the Lieutenant-Governor of the State, were made to feel the weight of this young circuit attorney's hand, who had come to clean out the Augean stables.

"Recently this young Hercules, being called to another part of the State to give an address on 'Civic Righteousness,' was overwhelmed by thunders of applause and cries from the people, 'Folk for Governor,' and the sight of Folk banners and badges, a veritable boom, such as most politicians would envy, but which he had not lifted a finger to awaken. He had not announced himself as a candidate, but if the people of that great State have their way about it this young Christian attorney will be nominated by acclamation, because he was brave enough and true enough to do his duty in the face corruption. He has not asked for a single vote, nor for the support of any politician, but he will undoubtedly march straight to the Governor's chair, and possibly to that of the President of the United States, because he is in favor with God and man, because the people believe in him, because he is brave enough and unselfish enough to seek the good of the people, and they know whom they can trust.

"When the politician says 'practical politics,' he usually means machine politics of the boodler and ward healer as opposed to that of the people. No sooner had that weak and inefficient 'Miss Nancy,' Governor of Illinois, been elected to that responsible office before he began to lay and work his plans in order to make himself strong with the machine for his reelection to the office, but the probability is that the machine will drop him like a hot cake, for the people do not want any more Yates as Governor. They are disgusted with him, and his friends are engaged in frantic plans to let him down easy; give him some cheap consulate at least.

"President Roosevelt was another of those reformers who had little regard for 'the so-called 'practical politics.' When, as Police Commissioner, believing in civil service reform, he said he would be true to his oath of office and enforce the excise law of the city, when he exchanged the honors and emoluments of his high office for the life of a soldier in the Spanish War, when, as Governor of New York, he forced the Legislature to pass a just law taxing franchises; when he boldly denounced the trusts, and when he settled the coal strike, when he aroused the enmity of Wall street, it was each time predicted by the bosses of politics, and even feared by his friends, that he was relegating himself to political oblivion. But it has been proven that Roosevelt cannot be shelved, because the people recognize that in all that he does he is actuated by an overmastering sense of duty, that low expediency never enters his calculations; that the motive of his strenuous energy and moral fiber is the welfare of all the people."

TWO CAREERS.

What has she done that men should stay
The jostling hurry of their way
To seek with wonder-eager eyes
The darkened mansion where she lies?
What has she done that, far and wide,
Has flashed the word that she has died—
That folk in distant lands have said
To one another, "She is dead?"
Why should the lips of strangers raise
To her a monument of praise?
Ah! it was hers to conquer fame.
She made a Name.

And she who lies so whitely still,
Untouched of joy, unvexed of ill,
Has she done aught? Why, surely, no;
The records of her living show
No laurels won, no glory gained,
No effort crowned, no height attained;
In life she championed no cause;
Why should the passing people pause?
One little household's narrow scope
Held all her heart and all her hope.
Too lowly she for fame's high dome,
She made a Home.

UNIVERSITY.

College opens today.

Rev. W. P. Ferguson of San Diego preached an able sermon in the Methodist Church yesterday morning on "Elements of Strength in Character." Unity, referring to all of man's powers, physical, mental, moral; peace, joy and love, he showed to be the main elements of character and founded all these on a man's confidence in himself and his Creator. The church was well filled. In the evening Rev. R. L. Bruce of Redlands occupied the pulpit.

The engagement of Miss Edna McMillen of No. 2621 Brighton avenue to Edwin Alderson of the real estate firm of Alderson & Sons, is announced.

Tully Knowles has resigned as pastor of the Harmony Methodist Church and Luther Rice, who graduated from the College of Liberal Arts of U.S.C., last year, will probably be assigned to that charge.

Rev. Dr. E. A. Healy will be returned to the Methodist Church by the conference. He has been the most popular pastor the church has ever had. Nearly $3000 was reported to the conference for benevolences from this church for the past year, which is the best showing it has ever made. This amount does not include the current expense or building fund.

Rev. F. B. Cherrington, D.D., whom the Methodist conference refused to admit last year, has been taken into full connection. His splendid efforts in launching the Centennial Methodist Church gained him recognition. This church, the foundations for which have just been completed, is being built on the corner of West Twenty-second street and Union avenue. It is expected that Dr. Cherrington will be appointed to supervise the completion of the building and care for its congregation during the coming year.

PICO HEIGHTS.

The extension of the Ninth-street electric line out Tenth street to Berendo street is proving a great convenience to residents of the northeastern sections of the heights. An effort will be made to have the line extended westward as far the Country Club grounds.

Work was begun last week in tearing away the old buildings on the lots recently purchased for the use of the new Catholic Church, at the southwest corner of Pico and Hobson streets. The Church of St. Thomas the Apostle will occupy the corner lot, and the parochial residence will be placed on the lot adjoining. Rev. J. J. Clifford, the new pastor, hopes to soon erect a building to be used for a parochial school for boys. The girls of the parish have school privileges at the Convent of the Immaculate Heart on West Pico street.

It is reported that Pico Heights will in all probability have another new church edifice during the ensuing year. The Methodists have outgrown their present quarters, and among the first work of the minister for the new conference year will be plans for the enlargement or rebuilding of the church edifice. Pico Heights is looked upon as an important field, and many are in favor of erecting a handsome and commodious building that will accommodate the work that is bound to grow up here with the rapid increase in population.

Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick, mother of J. R. Kirkpatrick, the real estate agent, has gone to Lordsburg to visit with her daughter, Miss Eunice Kirkpatrick, who is teaching in the schools there, and later will visit her old home in Oregon.

A farewell reception was given at the Congregational Church last Thursday evening in honor of the Misses Louise Savory and S. Savory and Robert Chisholm, who go to Claremont to enter Pomona College. There were a musical programme and addresses by Revs. J. M. Schaefle and G. W. Savory and by H. T. Dalton, superintendent of the Congregational school here.

Yesterday morning at the Congregational Church Rev. J. M. Schaefle gave a sermon on "Eternal Life." Last night Rev. E. W. Pasco, a member of the Methodist annual conference, was the speaker. Mr. Pasco is the guest of his cousin, Miss Howland, while in the city.

A. Duquette has sold to Neil Glass through the agency of J. R. Kirkpatrick, his nine-room residence at the corner of Sepulveda and Fedora streets. Mr. Duquette will remove to his ranch. Mr. Kirkpatrick has sold to Mr. Duquette for Mrs. Anna S. Landall a lot on the north side of Roxbury avenue; and to Mrs. M. Bright for C. H. Tuerk, a five-room house at No. 1225 Catalina street. Mr. Tuerk intends to remove to Redlands.

J. T. Harvey has begun the erection of a cottage on El Molino street, south of Pico street.

The Free Methodists opened a tent meeting Saturday evening at the corner of Pico and New Hampshire streets. Rev. J. B. Freeland and Rev. M. N. Downing, the presiding elder for the Los Angeles district, are the speakers and the music is in charge of Prof. Shay.

The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Harold Lacy, Friday, was made pleasantly memorable in the minds of the Catalina Social Circle which tendered her a delightful surprise at her home, No. 1239 Catalina street. The afternoon was spent in games, music and mirth; Miss Norma Simons sang Spanish songs; Julius Hanson, brother of Mrs. Lacy, now on a visit from Johannesburg, also sang. Misses Lacy and Moore, and Miss Kathie Frost rendered instrumental solos, and Mrs. George Olds gave several readings, after which a dainty feast was partaken of in the dining-room, the beauty of which was enhanced by Duchess roses, gifts of the guests. Among the remembrances was a bust of Tanagra. Those present were Mmes. Frost, Strong, Perkins, McMartin, Doolittle, McKee, Simons, Clemens, Tuerk, Rice, Moore, Olds, Misses Simons, Frost and Gibbs.

Miss Bessie Gilkey of San Francisco is visiting Mrs. McCann at No. 1125 Catalina street.

Mrs. H. F. Strong entertained the Catalina Circle on Wednesday.

Miss Grace M. Tillis is having built a small cottage at No. 1249 Lent street.

Robert Nelson has in progress at No. 2727 Roxbury stret a cottage to cost $1200.

C. A. Weissman has begun the construction of a two-story building of flats, at Nos. 1325 and 1327 Reid street. The structure will cost $3400.

Conrad Rosenberg is remodeling his residence property at No. 2506 West Pico street.

GARVANZA.

One of the largest receptions ever tendered to anyone in this neighborhood was that given to Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Bell last Monday night at the residence of George W. Wilson on Avenue 66. There were more than three hundred guests present, and all expressed their regret that Mr. Bell was to close his pastorate of the Methodist Church here. An address embodying this sentiment, and the esteem in which both Mr. and Mrs. Bell are held by the people of Garvanza, was delivered by W. R. Bacon, and a touching response was made by the pastor, Mr. and Mrs. Bell have put in two years of faithful effort in this parish, and have done much for the upbuilding of the church interests here, as well as taking an active interest in the best social life of the community. They go to take up the work of conference evangelists, but will probably make their headquarters at Garvanza.

C. M. Fuller has bought of George W. Wilson a lot with a frontage of 82 feet on Avenue 66 and 200 feet deep, for $1000. It is one of the choicest building sites on the boulevard, being about two feet above the grade. Mr. Wilson has also sold to Harold Lacy two lots, making a tract 160 feet square on the corner of Avenue 65 and Pollard street, for $1050. It is understood that the purchase is made for a home, and that a nine-room residence will soon be erected there. W. E. Whitmore has also purchased a home site from Mr. Wilson, it being lot 1 of block 12. He plans to build on the property.

The Annandale school opens today with Miss Grace Bartholomew and Miss Mattie Steele in charge. The school will have a large attendance, notwithstanding the fact that the American school district has been cut out of its territory. Work is soon to begin on the erection of the building for the American school on the Highland Park addition tract.

W. R. Bacon of North Avenue 66 starts this week for a visit to Washington and New York.

Mrs. Lola M. Daly of San Francisco has been the guest of Mrs. F. I. Wheat the past week at her home on North Avenue 66, and on Monday evening a musicale was given in her honor.

SOUTH LOS ANGELES

The Adams Street Building Company is meeting with much success in the sale of lots in the newly-opened addition to Green's Central Avenue Tract. During the past week among the purchasers have been R. W. Poindexter, three lots on the north side of East Thirty-sixth street, in the first block east of Central avenue, on which he will build three cottages; Mrs. T. H. Breining of Oakland buys a lot on the same side of the street and will build; Mrs. Elsie Frame also buys in this block, and will build for her own home; Stephen O'Sullivan buys a lot on the south side of East Thirty-fourth street, between Hooper and Naomi streets, and will build; H. Mann of Hollywood buys two lots, one on the north side of Thirty-sixth street, and one on the south side of Thirty-fourth street, near Hooper street; Emil H. Bluemel purchases a lot on the south side of Thirty-fifth street, near Central avenue; and Mrs. Florence M. Phillips buys two lots at the northeast corner of Thirty-fifth and Naomi avenue, where she will build for her own home. So far nearly every purchaser in the tract has bought with the intention of building.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Cockran, No. 1263 East Twenty-third street, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Flora Kate, was married to Lieut. Charles Gerald Clifton. The double parlors, library and hall were beautifully decorated with smilax and white roses, forming a canopy under which the young couple stood during the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. O. V. Rice. The bride was gowned in white silk covered with silk gauze, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Only the relatives and intimate friends of the family were present. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton, after a short trip north, expect to leave for the Philippines.

The members of Les Freres Club were entertained at the home of W. A. Horne, No. 1007 East Twenty-first street, Monday evening. The early part of the evening was devoted to club business, and the following officers were elected for the coming season: C. F. Stamps, Jr., president; W. A. Horne, vice-president; C. W. Kuppen, secretary; W. A. Morgan, treasurer, and H. H. Pickering, marshal. Arrangements were made for the opening dance to be given at Kramer's on Friday night, October 2, for which the invitations have been issued.

The seventy-sixth birthday anniversary of Mrs. S. E. Fuller was celebrated Friday evening by a gathering of friends at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Kerns, No. 962 East Thirty-third street, where Mrs. Fuller and her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. John Mammen and Miss Estella, of Vandalia, Ill., are visiting. About thirty guests were present, and music, games and refreshments were features of the evening.

Rev. R. A. Henck, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church, has returned from his vacation. The ladies of this church gave a social Thursday evening, and are now preparing to hold a bazaar.

Haven Methodist Church held its first public service yesterday in the Sunday-school department of the new church. Through the kindness of several friends a handsome piano-finish table was placed in the church to answer for the present for a pulpit, and to be one of the permanent fittings of the church.

A "swap" social was given on Friday evening by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Central avenue Congregational Church.

Mrs. O. Berman, daughter and son, of San Francisco, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. C. McKinnie of No. 649 East Twenty-second street.

Mrs. F. E. Gasaway has come from Naco, Ariz., to visit her mother-in-law, Mrs. L. E. DeWald, at No. 1022 East Thirty-second street. Mrs. DeWald, who has been ill at the California Hospital for several weeks, has recovered sufficiently to return home, and her son, Frank Gasaway, who was called here by her illness, has returned to his home in Arizona.

Palestine Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, entertained the Westgate Chapter at its meeting Wednesday evening in the Masonic Hall. The hall was elaborately decorated, and during a social evening refreshments were served.

W. B. Reese is investing $2000 in the erection of two-story flats at Nos. 1928 and 1930 Central avenue.

A cottage for W. H. Beman is now building at No. 1311 East Twenty-second street, and one for the same party has been begun at No. 1313 East Twenty-second street.

D. E. Killips, an extensive builder in this territory, has begun the erection of a $1500 cottage at No. 1145 East Thirty-third street.

C. M. Stimson has in progress two cottages to cost $1100 each, and located at Nos. 1611 and 1615 East Fourteenth street.

A six-room cottage to cost $1800 is being built for John M. Craig, at No. 756 East Twenty-fourth street.

C. E. Ulrich is the owner of a cottage now building at No. 1201 East Twenty-fifth street.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Miss Pearl Hamilton and E. W. Fuller were married on Thursday evening at No. 200 South Soto street by Rev. E. A. Healy, of the University Methodist Episcopal Church. The ceremony was witnessed only by relatives and a few intimate friends. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. B. Hamilton and the late Rev. S. L. Hamilton, and has been prominently connected with the Westlake Methodist Episcopal Church for some years. The groom occupies a responsible position in the office of the Conservative Life Insurance Company of this city. After a short journey the young couple will reside at the address given above, where they will be at home to their friends on Wednesdays during October.

There is a decided advance in the rela estate movements on the highlands of the Ninth Ward, and many sections which have long been comparatively quiet and neglected are feeling the impetus of the city's general growth. There is much activity at present in the territory in the neighborhood of Hollenbeck Park. The City Realty Company reports the sale of ten lots in the Hollenbeck Park tract, and in most cases the property will be improved. Among the purchasers are J. N. Gibson, three lots; Walter M. Ross, who buys a house and lot of J. N. Gibson; G. A. Rawson, Lucretai Eastman, Marshall Knoles, Roy Hickok, W. A. Brown, D. A. Middleton, Anna Gibson, Clara Bywaters.

A report is in circulation that a company has been organized to take up the building of first-class two-story residences in the vicinity of First and Soto streets, and that fifteen acres or more will be thus improved. It is also the report that a high-class residence section is to be laid out on De Soto Heights.

The Boyle Heights branch of the Public Library is proving quite popular, and has been placed in charge of Miss Anna Madison until the work is thoroughly established. About 700 volumes have been placed here, and instructive collections of pictures will be exhibited from time to time. At present the attendant is at the Boyle Heights branch from 4 to 9 o'clock each evening except Sunday. It is expected that arrangements will soon be made for the presence of an attendant in the afternoons.

By the engagement of a large room in Hotel Mt. Pleasant a part of the Second-street pupils will be accommodated with school facilities. Every school building on Boyle Heights is overcrowded, and at the Breed street school the past week the work has been carried on at great disadvantage on account of the lack of teachers and the crowded conditions.

A. B. Scholes, a vocal soloist and choir singer of this city, has purchased of L. Jacobi a lot in the Bird tract, on the west side of Cornwell street, and is erecting a temporary cottage there to occupy while building a larger residence. He moves here from Belmont Heights.

An attempt is to be made to revive the old Boyle Heights Improvement Association, and to start a campaign for uniform tree planting on streets not os improved at present.

Miss Edna Whittlesey entertained a number of friends, Friday evening with a garden and dancing party at her home on Boyle avenue. The large yard was brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns under which refreshments were served. A most enjoyable evening was spent dancing in the large new barn, which was decorated with pepper boughs. Those present were: Mmes. Whittlesey and Jones, Misses Helena Anthus, Annie Welch, Florence Browning, Ines and Ethel Jones, Erma Wilson, Grace Wilson, Cora Wilson, Lois Wilson, Mary Putnam, Geraldine Andrews, Olive Glover, Edna and Nane Whittlesey; Messrs. Lewis Roe, Robert Collins, Will Walton, Lyman Proctor, Eugene Smith, Arthur Baker, Roy Jones, James Holden, Lynn Ryder, Herbert McDowell, Frank Wells, Herman Freese, Glenn Whittlesey, Dr. R. T. Whittlesey.

Judge R. H. F. Variel and family will arrive from their outing on the McKenzie River, Or., this evening, via Coast Line.

Mrs. E. L. Evarts of No. 229 North Chicago street has as her guest Mrs. Loren Johnston of Denver, Colo.

THE SEWAGE QUESTION.

Our outfall sewer to the ocean, constructed a few years ago at great expense to the taxpayers, is rapidly becoming a hopelessly "busted" wreck. Besides this, any one who has a nose in good healthy working order may easily discover, by taking a trip out on the Redondo electric line, that the perfume emitted by this sewage, where it is used for irrigation, just beyond Inglewood, is almost enough to knock a man down. It is, indeed, a wonder that the long-suffering residents of that section have endured such a loud smelling nuisance so long. Similar unpleasant odors are found near the outfall of the sewer, where it runs into the ocean. Again, in some parts of the thickly-settled sections of Los Angeles, on the south and southeast, within a couple of miles or so of the business center, the odor that arises from the street openings leading to the sewers is so strong that residents are actually sometimes awakened in their sleep, and are forced to shut their windows.

The city of Los Angeles is in the market with a million dollars' worth of bonds, to be used for the construction of the new outfall sewer, and for the improvement of the internal sewer system. The outlook for the sale of these bonds is admittedly dubious, and, in the interim, before they can be disposed of, it might be well for the Council and other city officials to take serious thought unto themselves as to whether it is better, after all, that these bonds should be sold, or that they should be allowed to expire, and a new project and a new issue be allowed to take their place. The city has had one costly experience with the outfall plan, and should be on its guard against repeating any one of the mistakes that occurred in the former enterprise.

The whole theory of sewage disposal is undergoing a radical change at the present time, owing to the extension and development of the principle of the septic tank. This was, at one time, believed to be feasible only in the case of a limited quantity of sewage; that is, for small cities, but it is being undertaken constantly on a larger and more extensive scale, and there are now twenty American cities of considerable size that use this system.

An expenditure involving a million dollars is a serious enough matter for the Council to give long and critical consideration; and if it is necessary to employ outside engineering aid to arrive at a conclusion, it should not hesitate to take that course. No expert from outside the city has ever passed on the plans now proposed, and, while the present City Engineer and the gentleman who assisted him may both be intelligent and competent men, a matter of such magnitude should be given the benefit of the widest and most general consideration and criticism that is available.

The present condition is deplorable, no doubt, and possibly, in view of the failure of these bonds to sell and the necessary postponement of the work, something could be done to relieve the situation for the immediate present. If the bonds sell, we can go ahead with the work as contemplated, but if they should fail to sell, there is then an opportunity to give the whole question a fresh consideration.

OUR COMMERCIAL MARINE.

While the United States so persistently beats Great Britain in the international yacht races, it seems to be almost absurd for this country to remain so very far behind the mother country in its commercial marine. Not only are we behind, but it appears that we are even retrograding.

The New York Board of Trade and Transportation has taken up this question, and has appointed a committee on the Merchant Marine, of which Aaron Vanderbilt is chairman. The committee has issued a brief statement from which the astonishing fact is ascertained that in 1810 the United States, with 7,000,000 inhabitants, commanded more registered tonnage for over-sea trade than the United States of 1902, with a population of 80,000,000. This is certainly a statement that is calculated to "give to think" to the most thoughtless.

Again, in 1810, American ships and American sailors carried 91.5 per cent. of their country's ocean trade, and, moreover, a great share of that of Europe. In 1831 we still carried 65.2 per cent. of our own trade, and some of the trade of other nations. American ships last year conveyed only 8.8 per cent. of our imports and exports. Two-thirds of our once great and powerful deep-sea fleet has vanished, and not one new keel for a deep-sea ship is being laid on either our Atlantic or Pacific coast line.

The United States pays to foreign vessels, for conveying our freight and passengers, over $100,000,000 a year. Some of these steamers are available for service against us in war. The British Empire has 14,500,000 tons of merchant shipping. The United States, which produces far more merchandise, and now sends more freight than any other nation, has a fleet registered for deep-sea commerce of only 872,000 tons.

There were drawbacks to the ship subsidy bill recently introduced in Congress, which were properly objected to. It should, however, not be so difficult a matter to frame some legislation for the encouragement of American shipping that will not lean too much toward private interests.

A BAD PRACTICE.

A recently-formed organization, known as the Los Angeles Sand Company, has made a renewed application to the City Council for permission to take sand from the river bed. The company asks for the exclusive privilege of taking sand from the river bed at four points, to be designated by the Council. It is the purpose of the company to take sand from the river bed by means of a local invention, and to convey it to bins located on the bank. The company offers to pay the city 5 cents a ton for all sand and gravel and rock taken from the river bed. The petition states that the company will spend $10,000 in the erection of a plant, and will greatly reduce the cost of sand to the building trades.

This may be all right, but in any case it would be safer and better to call for other bids before any such monopoly is granted by the city. Even then, it would be unwise to grant to any one person or firm a monopoly of the entire bed of the river.

Again, a few days ago a Councilman stated that he was in favor of accepting a bid that had been made for the Sixth-street school site, one of the most valuable pieces of property in Los Angeles. Surely the Council will not think of disposing of this valuable property except by open competition among possible purchasers, allowing plenty of time for bids to come in, and giving full publicity to the offer of sale.

Some of the worst scandals connected with municipal government have hinged around the objectionable practice of letting out valuable privileges without competition, or of so framing the form of bid that only one favored individual or firm could successfully compete. Let us guard against the first beginning of such a bad practice in Los Angeles.

TO GOV. PEABODY, ALL HONOR.

In these degenerate days of invertebrate officials and cringing political demagogy, it is both refreshing and encouraging to find a State executive who dares to do his duty, and who not only dares to do it, but who does it from choice, because it is duty. Such an official, evidently, is Gov. Peabody of Colorado—a State which, in the past, has exhibited about as disgusting a brand of demagogy as has ever flaunted itself in the face of decency.

A strike is in progress at Cripple Creek, Colo. Cripple Creek is a place where one or more strikes are generally in progress. It may be said, in fact, that the day when a strike is not in progress at Cripple Creek, Colo., is a rather frigid day. In order to preserve the peace—which is generally in urgent need of preservation at Cripple Creek—Gov. Peabody has ordered the State militia to that classic locality. Since the arrival of the State troops at Cripple Creek an unwonted calm has settled down on the town. Whereat there is much grumbling on the part of those who have a great and constant yearning for the playful diversions of the riot. The Governor has been subjected to more or less criticism from the lawless elements and from those who uphold them in their lawlessness, because of his action in sending the State troops to Cripple Creek. Gov. Peabody answers his critics thus:

"The people who are finding fault with me for sending the State troops to Cripple Creek will find before this thing is over that it is not a handball contest. There is a great question at issue, and I mean to make it possible for an American citizen to labor and earn his living in the State of Colorado whether he does or does not belong to a union, to a Masonic lodge or a church. The right of every man to labor in peace is going to be maintained in this State if I have to keep the troops in the field during the entire two years of my term of office. We are not fighting anybody, but we are protecting everybody and shall do so."

This is unanswerable. It is the kind of talk that "tells." It will do more, coming from such a source, to preserve the peace in Cripple Creek and to guarantee to every man, unionist as well as non-unionist, his rights under the law, than all other forces and influences combined. It is the sort of talk—backed up by appropriate action—which every executive officer in the land ought to give utterance to, if he talks at all.

Half of the rioting and bloodshed which we have had in connection with strikes, during the past few years of disgraceful industrial history, have been due, directly or indirectly, to the supineness, subserviency, and moral cowardice of Governors, Sheriffs, Mayors, and other administrative officers, sworn to the upholding of law and the protection of the rights of citizens, without prejudice and without partiality. We have had too much of this criminal demagogy. It is gratifying to learn that Gov. Peabody of Colorado is not a demagogue, a time-server, nor a coward. The country would be better off if there were more Governors like him.

MASHING THE MASHERS.

In the city of Brooklyn, a law-and-order league has been organized, it is said, with the avowed object of suppressing and punishing the "mashers" who habitually affront and in various ways annoy women on the streets, in the cars, and in other public places. The society is said to be composed of young men who are thoroughly in earnest in their determination to do away with the evil practice referred to, or at least to reduce it to the smallest possible minimum.

A New York paper tells of the practical work of the society. "A few days ago some of the society's members were returning from Coney Island, and when a few obnoxious youths annoyed some young women by their attentions the law-and-order men took a hand in the affair. As the latter had been authorized to make arrests whenever necessary, the mashers were given the alternative of apologizing to the women or of being locked up. In the presence of a car filled with people the offenders apologized." The paper adds that "there have been other cases where justice has been meted out to these pests, and the results have been excellent. It has been shown that the society is a reality, and that the members mean business. This much having become known, the offenders have decreased to a great extent."

The objects of this movement cannot be commended too highly. It deserves the support and encouragement of all respectable people. While it is very much to be regretted that such a society should be needed in any American community, the fact that it is needed is a sufficient warrant for its existence. There are other communities outside the city of Brooklyn where the organization of such an association would undoubtedly have a salutary effect, especially, if, as ought to be the case, its members be zealous, active and stalwart. The curs who insult women are not by any means confined to any one locality. They are to be found in nearly all our larger cities—although (much to our credit as a nation,) they are not, as a rule, American born. Women on the streets and in public places are safer from insult or other danger in the United States than in any other country. But they are not safe enough until they are absolutely safe.

Of all despicable curs on the face of the earth, the man who forces his attentions upon a woman against her will is perhaps most detestable. In the most flagrant cases of this kind simple arrest and fine is by far too light a punishment. There are methods which might be adopted, in aggravated cases, which would not only cause the punishment to fit the crime, but would effectually prevent its repetition by the individual treated. The habitual "masher" would be pretty chary of plying his detestable practices if he were assured that the particular form of punishment which his offense so richly deserves were likely to be meted out to him.

Bricks are said to have been much better in the days of the ancient Romans than they are in our time. They probably didn't want them to bake in fifteen minutes and be set on the twenty-eighth story of a skyscraper the same day they came out of the kiln. What ails us in most places consists in rushing the cattle with undue speed. As for clay and fire we have every confidence that the sorts used by the ancient Romans were much the same as we are putting in juxtaposition in the brick business, even to this day.

The Prince of Wales will come to the St. Louis Exposition, provided they can succeed in unwinding the red tape over on his side of the pond between now and the time the show opens. We await the verdict with great interest.

MINES AND MINING ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY REPORT OF COPPER PRODUCTION.

New Railway to the Dragoon Mining District, Arizona—The Black Diamond Smelter—New Concentrating Plant for the Middlemarch—New Mexico's Big Strike.

In his report on the production of copper in the United States during the year 1902, just issued by the United States Geological Survey, Charles Kirchhoff says: "The copper mining industry of the United States suffered during 1902 from the reaction which followed the unsuccessful attempt during 1901 to maintain the value of the metal at an artificial level. The collapse which came toward the close of 1901 left many producers committed to sales covering a long period of low prices, with the menace of heavy accumulations of metal constantly over the market. Yet production was heavier in 1902 than it had been in 1901, because some of the important mines were worked to full capacity, and because some of the enlargements and improvements previously begun became effective during the year. Furthermore, a number of new mining enterprises first produced important quantities of metal. On the other hand, accidents and labor troubles cut down the output of some of the larger undertakings." The table accompanying the report shows that copper was first produced in the United States in 1845, the total production for the year being reported at 100 tons, of which the Lake Superior region contributed twelve tons. It was not until 1888 that production reached the 100,000 ton mark. From that year the increase was rapid, reaching 205,234 tons in 1896. For last year, the production is reported by Mr. Kirchhoff at 294,423 long tons, the largest quantity produced in the United States in any one year. Of this total quantity, Arizona contributed 18.2 per cent., Lake Superior region, 25.9 per cent., and Montana, 43.8 per cent.

THE DRAGOONS, ARIZONA.

The railway between Cochise and Pearce, in Cochise county, Arizona, is completed and the company (Arizona and Colorado,) is running two trains each way a day, and is doing a heavy business. The Pearce correspondent of the Los Angeles Mining Review, writing of this, says: "They are hauling from one to two cars of oil a day for the Pearce gold mine, and two or more cars of coke daily for the Black Diamond Copper Company besides hauling in and out for the tributary camps." The Black Diamond Copper Company is again running its smelter at full capacity, after a two months' shut-down because of lack of water. They have now a 4-inch pipe line connected to the Commonwealth's big tank, from which the water runs by gravity to the company's pumping station, where the water is pumped and raised 800 feet a distance of six miles to the Black Diamond reservoir at the smelter. The company is turning out at its smelter a large quantity of copper daily, containing a high percentage of silver, going as high as 186 ounces to the ton of matter. This latter averages 45 per cent. copper. The ore is absolutely self-fluxing, no mixture of ores is attempted, it is shoveled into the furnaces just as it comes from the stopes, and the slag loss is probably the lowest of any smelting plant in Arizona, being stated at only .30 per cent. copper, while for several days it was as low as .25 per cent. The ore is transported from the mine to the smelter by aerial tramway, delivering 150 tons of ore a day, which will soon be increased to 175 tons. The company is now employing 200 men.

At Gleason, in the same district, the Copper Belle is shipping from one to two carloads of ore a day to the smelter at El Paso. The ore shipped is of second grade, being used for flux at the El Paso smelter. An early resumption of development at this mine is expected.

It is stated that contract has been let by the Middlemarch Company to a Los Angeles firm for a 100-ton concentrating plant. The Middlemarch plant is about three miles distant from the Black Diamond mines.

There is no diminution in production at the Commonwealth gold mine at Pearce. It is reported that another large and rich body of ore has been encountered in the mine a short distance from the main ledge. It is the intention to put diamond drills at work to determine the extent of the new find.

TOMBSTONE MINES.

It is stated in a report from Tombstone, Ariz., that the Tombstone Consolidated Mines Company is excavating for a second mammoth pump to be installed at the 700-foot level. The station is to be eighty-five feet long and thirty-five feet wide, which will afford even more room than the present underground pumping station on the 600-foot level. The capacity of the 700-foot level pump will be 2,500,000 gallons of water daily, and no difficulty is anticipated by the management in keeping the levels clear of water to that depth, which is 108 feet below the original water level.

NEW MEXICO'S BIG STRIKE.

The gold strike in Gold Gulch is proving to be richer than was supposed, and it has caused so great an excitement that, as stated in a report from Silver City, everything has been located for miles around the gulch and many leases have been taken on claims near the big strike. One report from Silver City about it states: "The Owl claim on which the richest gold ore is being taken out, was leased from its owners for sixty days a short time before the rich vein was found, by Al Owen, but the lease had a clause terminating it if any of the three owners should sell. A few days after the strike had been made by the lessee, one of the three owners sold out, thereby terminating the lease, and the new owners have since that time been working three shifts in taking out some of the richest gold ore ever mined in this locality. Owen was enabled, it is stated, to get out enough ore on the dumps before his lease expired, to net him between $20,000 and $30,000. The returns of this shipment of ore, which will be shipped to El Paso, will be something enormous for the small amount, as some of the first-class sacked ore will run over $1000 per ton. Of the ore assayed, the better ore showed 194 ounces gold, which would return a little over $2000 per ton, if this grade could be held up. The ore, which was sacked and lay on a dump near the shaft, was so valuable that Owen was forced to employ a guard to protect it at night as well as during the day time."

CONCENTRATOR AT CANANEA.

The Greene Consolidated Copper Company at Cananea, Sonora, Mex., is getting ready for a new concentrating plant, to be the largest in that part of the country. As stated in the report about it, it will be built just above the present concentrator, and to secure a site for it the mountain side is being removed. It will have a capacity of 1000 tons, whereas the present one has a capacity of only 800 tons.

MOVING INTO MEXICO.

The intended removal of the western business interests of the American Smelting and Refining Company from Denver, Colo., into Mexico, is the source of much comment. The company will dismantle its Grant smelter, shut down its other plant at Pueblo, Colo., and shut up its general offices in Denver. The reason assigned for these very radical changes is that "labor is cheaper in Mexico." It is more than likely that the real reason is, not that labor is cheaper in Mexico, but because there are no "walking delegates" there. If, as one mining paper says in connection with this removal, we will but give the walking delegate a reasonable amount of time he will succeed in walking out of this country a very large number of business interests and a very large amount of capital.

MINING NOTES.

All the mines on the Comstock lode, Nevada, are running full blast, for the first time in fifteen years. The lowest levels of the Virginia and California have been unwatered.

The output of gold in the Black Hills, South Dakota, during the first eight months of this year is estimated at $6,750,000.

The total production of pig iron in the Dominion of Canada the first six months of 1903 was 132,930 tons gross, compared with 157,804 tons for the same period in 1902.

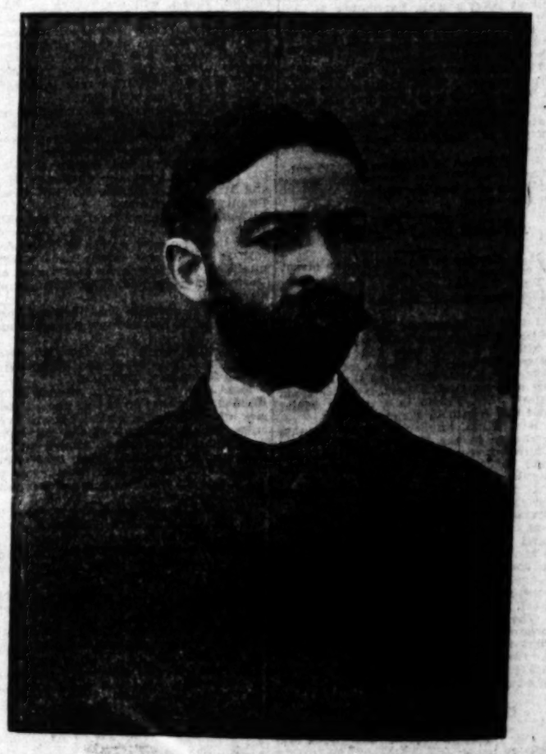
The Gold Road mine and mill, Mohave county, Arizona, employ about 125 men. The plant handles 120 tons of ore in twenty-four hours by the cyanide process. The output of gold bullion monthly is in the neighborhood of $75,000.

The largest gold brick to reach the United States assay office at Deadwood, S. D., was sent there recently by the Spearfish Gold Mining Company. It weighed 1175 ounces and is valued at $22,000, and is the result of a fourteen days' run of the company's 200-ton cyanide mill.

PASTOR WEBB WILL BID CHURCH GOOD-BY.

THE regular services in the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning were varied by the reading from the pulpit of the formal resignation of the pastor, Rev. Aquilla Webb. The members of the congregation, outside of the officers of the church, were not aware that this was to take place, and surprise was general, although a rumor recently went forth to the effect that the pastor was contemplating such a move.

While there are members of the congregation who have expressed themselves as in favor of a change in the pastorate, the officers of the church declare that there is nothing of a "strained relation" whatever between pastor and people, and that the move for a change was made by the pastor himself. One of them stated yesterday that at the meeting of the session last week, when Mr. Webb formally declared his intention of resigning, he was offered an increased salary to remain, but refused on the ground that his intended move was not one into which the financial question entered.



REV. AQUILLA WEBB.

The pastor filled the pulpit as usual in the morning, and his formal request to the congregation for release from the pastorate was read by Rev. Robert MacLaren, D.D., of Boyle Heights. The resignation read as follows:

"Dearly Beloved: Almost three years ago, I received through the Los Angeles Presbytery your call to the pastorate of this church. The call was a unanimous one and the spirit of that call has been unchanged toward me through my ministry.

"The members of the Presbytery were most cordial in placing the call in my hands. The brethren of other denominations and the newspapers of the city joined heartily in the welcome. I am happy to say, that the friendships thus begun continue to the present.

"My faith in this church as a great spiritual force in the life of this city, is firmer today than the day on which I accepted the call to the pastorate. My desire has been to know nothing among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified, and I have endeavored at all times to present the truth as it is revealed through Him. You have been loyal to me and I have tried to help you. We have worked harmoniously and God has honored the church with large accessions.

"This last spring, Mrs. Webb and I were called upon to pass through the most trying experience of our lives when our little daughter, Ruth, was called to that home not made with hands. Heaven has never been so real and precious to us as now. But since our loss the desire to return to home and friends of youth has increased on the part of Mrs. Webb and myself. Therefore, I desire that you join with me in asking the Presbytery to dissolve the relation that exists between us as pastor and people. My wish is to be released on the last Sabbath of this month.

"My prayer for you all is that you will remain true and loyal to this church, and that you will be divinely guided in the speedy selection of my successor.

"Now our Lord Jesus Christ Himself, and God our Father, which loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts and establish them in every good work and word."

When seen yesterday afternoon, Rev. Webb stated that he and his family will return to the East immediately upon his release from duty here. He would not say where he is to take up a new charge, but intimated that his plans in this regard are practically matured.

The resigning pastor came to Los Angeles three years ago from the Mystic Side Church of Boston, and during his work in this city has been prominent in all plans and endeavors concerning church work. He is a comparatively young man, always affable in his dealings with his fellow-men, whether in religious circles or out of them, and has made many friends who will witness his depature with disappointment.

There will be a meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church tonight to take formal action upon the resignation.

HARDSHIPS OF TRAVEL.

Old Line Between Los Angeles and Pasadena Torn Up—Young Lady Torn Up Too.

Active work on the broad-gauging of the old line between Los Angeles and South Pasadena has begun, and travel over that route is more or less of a hardship at present. In getting to Pasadena, it is necessary to transfer three times, and near South Pasadena one whole block of dusty road must be covered on foot.

One of Pasadena's tennis players, a young lady with a reputation as a mountain climber, had trouble with the conductors on the way to Pasadena, Sunday afternoon. She had been given a transfer and was told to walk one block to the next section.

"Do you mean it?" she asked, with a quaint little pout to her moistened lips. "And are you going to make me carry this heavy grip all that distance?"

"Sorry, lady, but we won't know anything about it a hundred years from today."

"You saucy fellow! I want my money back. This road has no right to give such service. I will walk all the way before I will ride on this horrid old car."

"You can't ride on this one, madame, here is your transfer," and he held it out to her and politely raised his cap.

The fresh cheeks flushed with anger. "Madame, is it! I shall report you, sir," and she snatched the transfer from his hand, gathered up her skirts and strode off, with her defiant little chin high in the air.

On the way she grew madder and madder, and tore the transfer to tiny bits, with her small white teeth at one end and her dainty gloved hand at the other. When she got aboard the next car, she ordered the window put down to cool herself, and then when the conductor asked her for "fare," she said. "You can't have any. That other horrid conductor made me so mad that I tore my transfer up and the pieces are back there in the road."

"I am sorry, but you will have to pay your fare," said the conductor, firmly.

"I won't," and she flopped about in her seat so that her back was turned on him.

"I will have to put you off, miss," he answered, as he reached for the bell rope and winked at the fellow who had just given him a cigar.

She saw the hand go up for the cord, but missed the wink. Well, he had at least not called her "madame," so she opened her purse and hunted for a nickel, but took a long time in finding it.

GUESSING ON THE FUTURE.

Much Speculation by Members of M. E. Conference.

Persistent Rumors of Division Into Two Districts.

Probable Assignment of Some Prominent Ministers—Ordination Service.

In Methodist circles all kinds of rumors are flying around as to what the present conference will or will not do. A report that has been in circulation for some days gained such strength yesterday that many have come to look upon it as practically a certainty. It is to the effect that another district is to be formed and thereby the office of a new presiding elder created.

Those who maintain that this course will be pursued have picked out Revs. [illegible] Miller and A. W. Adkinson as the men who will preside over the destinies of the new districts.

It is known, however, that a considerable number of the delegates are opposed to any division at this time and that they will bitterly oppose such movement.

Among the most interested persons in the large audience who listened to Rev. A. W. Adkinson's sermon on "Missions" at the First Methodist Church last night was Bishop Cranston, and several were heard to express the belief that the bishop was there to size up the pastor with a view to making him presiding elder.

It is said that if the scheme for division is carried through Rev. Dr. S. [illegible] Thompson will be returned to the superintendency of the Arizona mission. Otherwise he will secure the appointment as presiding elder of the Los Angeles district as previously announced in The Times.

It is said that Rev. Dr. E. A. Healy, whose name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the presiding eldership, will return to the Kennedy Church, where he has served for the past three years.

It now looks as if Rev. E. J. Inwood will not go to Pomona, although there are [illegible] who think he may be sent to San Diego.

Rev. W. P. Ferguson is anxious to go to San Diego on account of his wife's health, and he is generally supposed to be slated for Boyle Heights, although some say it may be Pomona.

Rev. George M. Smith, the well-known church builder of the conference, will take a year off and make a [illegible] tour of the Eastern States. Simpson Church, the latest of his [illegible] enterprises, will thus [illegible] no other charge to be accounted for. The names of numerous clergymen [illegible] associated with this church as regular pastor.

Rev. J. Carroll of Santa Barbara is a young man with whom the gossips have associated a change. He is supposed to go to San Diego.

Rev. W. K. Beans of Sacramento, who was transferred to the local conference this year, is spoken of as a possibility for the Santa Barbara charge.

Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Wangenheim and the Misses O'Connor.

A telegram has been received by friends at the hotel of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dupee of Chicago, regular winter guests here. The telegram also stated that the family would arrive at Coronado in a few days.

Mrs. John E. Page and Mrs. Burling are about to leave the hotel for San Francisco. The children of Mrs. Burling were guests of honor at a luncheon yesterday.

FATS AND SLATS BANQUET.

Dinner to Baseball Magnates and a Few Who Were Never Accused of Being Magnates.

The Fats and Slats, teams which played a match game of ball a week ago this afternoon at Chutes Park for the championship of Tropico and a dinner on the side, held an informal session over the banquet table at Levy's last night at the expense of the Fats, who were the losers. Both teams were represented in force and a number of friends were present by special invitation.

An excellent dinner was served and at its conclusion the following toasts were responded to:

"How to get together a winning ball team, or class always tells," by James F. Morley.

"What I don't know about pitching," by Joe Corbett.

"Shooting boars on the Lower Colorado," by James J. Jeffries.

"'Tis sometimes pleasanter to lose than to win," by Henry Berry.

"How I played center field," by Mel Nordlinger.

"Silence is golden," by Jimmy Toman.

"Here's looking at you, Mr. Manager," by Doc Newton.

"The life of an umpire," with personal reminiscences," by Mose Hamburger, and "Forty years at second base," by Tom Darmody.

The party did not break up until last-car time. Among those present were Henry Berry, James F. Morley, James J. Jeffries, Tom Darmody, Ira Youngworth, Mel Nordlinger, H. M. Love, Dr. E. J. Newton, Joe Corbett, James J. Toman and Cud Cook.

A return game is in the air. This time it will be no crack player proposition. No fat weighing under 190 can get in and the thins must be welterweights or under.

John Brink, Tom McCarey, and other stars of the game were not noticed. They were not lost in the shuffle either. Brink is said to be planning some dreadful revenge on the Slats for doing up his Fats in such dreadful style.

Jeff says it was not a fair do. Morley says he outgeneraled the Fats and that is why they are sore. At any rate, the dinner has been bought

Men's and Women's Automobile Gauntlets are among the new arrivals in the Glove Department.

Coulter Dry Goods Co.

Women's Mocha Gloves with Medallion Clasps are considered quite au fait for street wear.

The influx of Fall Fabrics is so great that we are already beginning to be cramped for room, and more goods coming. But we'll soon remedy this by putting quick-going prices on many lines throughout the store.

Women's Tailor Suits.

The new tailor suits are full of graceful sweeping lines; long in the coat and short in the skirt. Zibelines in fancy mixes and indefinite broken stripes, Scotch tweeds and rough Cheviots are favored stuffs. Prices start at $20.00 and range gradually upward to $75.00.

New Tailored Skirts.

Fitting snugly around the waist, flaring toward the foot, swinging clear of the ground—most of them, especially the tweeds and Zibelines. The longer skirts are of broadcloth and smooth Cheviots, strapped and stitched and buttoned in many pretty ways. Some of the new skirts are in coat effect.

New Autumn Waists.

Mercerized cotton Waists—white and dainty colors—including the popular vesting patterns and elaborate brocades. Wool waists, of etamines and crashes. Elaborate waists of silk and crepe de chine—for street or evening. Then there are Mousseline waists, made over China silk—perfect beauties.

New Dress Trimmings.

Come and enjoy to the full this matchless gathering—whether you are ready to buy or not. See the appliques, the spangles, the fancy braids, the new French hand made trimmings the dangling pendants—and the rich garnitures. Examine the laces—note the novelty effects—the Cluny, the appliques and the new French Laces.

Novelties in Neckwear.

Lace collars, and stocks, the new hand-made braid effects—with French knots and feather stitching; and the elaborate lace collars and lace capes, in circular or stoll shapes; of wood fiber lace, in black, white or champagne—many of them quite inexpensive.

The New Waistings.

Makers of cotton and wool waistings—and similar materials for skirts and shirt waist suits—have surpassed all previous seasons in beauty, in variety and in intrinsic worth. Cotton waistings from 25c to $1.50; Wool Waistings at 25c, 50c and up to 85c. The Mercerized Waistings at $1.00 are the same as other stores sell at $1.25 and $1.50.

Fall Fashion Notes. By Mlle. Lagana.

The winter resorts of the Pacific Southwest, now famous the world over, make possible the wearing of walking and visiting gowns of light wools and silks, which would be out of the question in Eastern America, for climatic reasons. While the trunks of returning Seagoers bring in much that is modish from Paris, there are being turned out, on this side of the water, frocks which will contrast more than favorably with those of this fashion Mecca, and it is only a question of time when the popular prejudice, that Paris alone can turn out anything that is fit to wear, will be beaten flat, and American women will not deem it necessary to cross the water in search of the latest ideas in fashion.

While ravishing toilettes are still to be seen in the Bois, where all the world goes to breakfast and to dine in the famous restaurants; the Paris season practically ended with the Grand Prix; and fashionable people are now flitting from one resort to another, swinging 'round the circuit of watering places prescribed by tradition and wearing their most chic toilettes for beach and casino and races; replicas of which, modified to suit American tastes, will beyond question, tax the capacity of our Costuming Parlors as the Western Winter Resorts fling open their doors to the influx of Eastern Visitors who boast that they never see the snow.

Concerning Costumes. By Mme. Boyd.

It will be perfectly safe to plan one's house and evening frocks along lines already tried. Though there will, of course, be new and interesting details in trimming, etc., the general character of such frocks will not be radically changed. The full skirts, round skirts, pelerine effects, ruchings, flouncings, etc., will not have run their course the past summer, but will continue in favor through the winter. There is a decided indication of a reaction toward mannish English tailoring in street frocks, and we shall certainly see a great many severely plain but extremely smartt allor suits. Silks aplenty will be used—which is a conclusion easily reached after a glance at the advance models. Taffetas in the soft finish form. Armures and seeded silks form the basis for many costumes; while dotted silks, pompadour silks and striped silks all have their places for waists or dresses. The two-toned changeable Taffetas are especially favored at present. Tiny checks retain their vogue, and a most attractive frock seen recently was of very soft taffeta in tiny grass green and white check. It was made with a full skirt, shirred into the waist band, yet cut so that it clung around the hips and broke into excessive fullness only toward the bottom. This skirt, barely touching all around, was trimmed in narrow ruffles set on at intervals and edged with narrow Valenciennes, the little heading also having the lace edge.

Preparations for opening our new Costuming Parlors, which are to occupy the second floor of the spacious new building at 341-345 South Broadway, go on apace. Artisans and artists are applying the finishing touches to fixtures.

New Dress Goods.

Every weave that fashion favors will be found here. Assortments are complete and satisfying; and varieties greater than in any past season. Zibelines are in the lead—particularly the imported Camelshair Zibelines, prettily dashed with black and white. But there are plenty of other weaves for the woman who doesn't care for "Zibs." The leading colors for this Autumn are champagne, lavender, ecru, clouded cream and the various tints of brown and green. The suit patterns come in shot Eoliennes as low as $25.00; Eolienues in evening shades for $35.00; while for street dresses, London Twines lead; one particular pattern is plaided, and sells for $45.00.

The New Silks.

A dozen times a day we've been asked, "Will this or that be worn?" It's going to be a silk season, that's certain. First things from abroad are here, and American makers, ready betimes, have sent us their latest and best. Armures, taffetas and seeded effects constitute the silks for costumes—mostly in vesting patterns; hairlines and pinchecks. The gun metal stripes are prime favorites, and sell from $1.00 to $1.50, Peau de Soie, taffeta, Peau de Cygne and Louisine are the late weaves for waists. Black silks are in pretty much the same textures as colored silks, and will be much worn. Velvets are good; particularly Panne Paeons, and whipcord velvets—for skirts, jackets, waists and complete costumes—all colors including gun metal.

New Ombre, Persian and Paided Ribbons are prettier than ever.

MANY MEN

Are Treated For Conditions Which Do Not Exist.

Failure to CURE the Result

MY METHOD

of treatment is the most rational, most reasonable and most effective yet known.

A Saying Often Heard.

MORE MEN MIGHT BE WELL.

I am convinced from the many that have come to me for cure that many men have been treated for conditions which they did not have—failure to obtain a positive and complete history in many cases is the cause. Guessing from certain symptoms is very often misleading—and for this and other uncertain reasons I often refuse to treat by mail—uncertain and unreliable methods. When I treat any condition I must know what for and why and you may know what you can depend upon.

Good results are not had by guessing, but by knowing what to do and how to do it.

I make definite claims for my treatment and method of application, which have proved the most effective in use. Half the failures are due to misunderstanding of cause and condition to be treated. I WAIT FOR MY FEE UNTIL YOU ARE CURED.

Special Attention Given To

Varicocele, Stricture, Rupture, Piles and Rectal Troubles, Hydrocele, Contagious Blood Diseases and acute and chronic urethral bladder and prostatic troubles. My facilities are the best for giving thorough and effective treatment. I accomplish more in one week in ten days than you could ever hope for by guessing through the mail. Rooms furnished free to patients.

FUN AND SONG FOR GERMANS.

Great Crowd at Sangerfest Day and Night.

Ballads of the Fatherland Delight Thousands.

Evening Music Rendered from a Platform in the Lake. Ladies Sing.

Great was the flocking together of the Germans of Southern California at Chutes Park yesterday afternoon and evening for the fourth annual sangerfest under the auspices of the Fidelia Singing Society of Los Angeles. Mighty was the sound of their voices as they rang out in German folk song, a-tuned to the festive spirit that stirred the hearts of the good-natured people of the Fatherland.

The clubs of the California Sangerbund joining with the Fidelia in the big music picnic were the Pasadena Liederkranz, Riverside Concordia and the singing section of the Turnverein Concordia of San Diego.

By the time the open air concert began in the afternoon there were between 6000 and 7000 visitors in the park, and a thick crowd was banked around the band stand, which had been enlarged for the occasion. A band of thirty or more pieces rendered selections between the songs. In the further corner of the grounds an immense tent, or rather awning covered a half dozen improvised bars, from which the foamy national beverage of the German flowed in uninterrupted streams until late at night. The inclosure was fitted with tables and benches, and by evening it was crowded to its limit with merry makers, who got together in an improvised chorus that did louder singing than the regular performers.

Following the performance of the orchestra, the afternoon programme was opened by an address of welcome from Carl Schutze, who was introduced by J. Blust, president of the California Sangerbund. He briefly outlined the meaning of the German outdoor musical festival, and of the folk songs which it was the custom to sing on such occasions. The following programme was then rendered: "Auf, ihr Bruder," Fidelia Mannerchor, Los Angeles; selection by the orchestra; "Bankett-Lied," Mannerchor, Concordia, Riverside; "Was Ich Still im Herzen Trage," mixed chorus, Fidelia, Los Angeles; selection by the orchestra; "Das Deutsche Lied," mass chorus of the California Sangerbund.

The evening programme was rendered from a platform standing in the lake, and the music in the open air, amid the myriad lights of the big pleasure park, produced a charming effect. Especially pleasing—and well applauded was the singing of Schubert's "Serenade" in baritone solo by F. Waller Seager, a New York vocalist recently arrived here. The stand was decorated in red, white and blue, and its entrance was guarded by two large American flags. The full evening programme was as follows: March, "Kling Karl," orchestra; "Wach Auf," mixed chorus, Fidelia, Los Angeles; "Toast," Mannerchor Concordia, Riverside; baritone solo, F. Waller Seager; "Gott Grusse Dich, Du Schoner Wald," Concordia Turnverein, San Diego; "Trinklied," Fidelia Mannerchor; aria from "Romeo and Juliet," Mrs. Florence Scarborough; "Der Wald," mass chorus, California Sangerbund; "Die Wacht Am Rhein," orchestra. At the conclusion the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the massed chorus, aided by the orchestra, and the audience rose and joined in. The musical director of the festival was Prof. J. A. Jahn.

The appearance of the Fidelia Society at the park was the signal for a march through the grounds by the male members arrayed in the usual long linen dusters, Tyrolean hats, yellow sashes over the shoulder and canes flower-bedecked.

Little occurred to mar the enjoyment of the day for the fun-loving throng. During the course of the evening, however, things began to get a little lively in the beer tent, there was a fight or two between an officer in uniform and a young ruffian who had imbibed with the outside rabble not wisely but too well, and who had worked himself into a vicious jag. The thugs finally started out to paint the ground with the policeman, and several tables full of empty beer bottles had been bowled over by the scrimmage, the belligerent was brought to a standstill only by being choked into submission.

During the afternoon, which was followed by laughter, was caused by the spectators thronged about by an acrobatic performer, which was entirely impromptu. The [illegible] of the "shoot the chutes" [illegible] out backward, head foremost, feet first, sitting or standing. The boat goes through the lake with its occupants until the crest-fallen [illegible] himself sufficiently to [illegible] amid the hoots of the crowd [illegible] it ashore.

ARIZONA.

HOW A TEXAS SHERIFF STOLE HIS PRISONER.

RUSTLED HIM OUT OF ARIZONA TIED TO HIS SADDLE.

Man Hunt in Progress in Mountains of Graham County, Outlaw Joe Roberts the Quarry—Miners Ascend Shaft in Bucket of Burning Giant Powder.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 19.—Last Saturday John Humphries, a prisoner in the County Jail at this place, was delivered over to Sheriff M. H. Denham of Brown county, Tex., on a requisition for felony approved by Gov. Brodie of Arizona. An hour later Sheriff Slaughter of Cochise county had trouble on his hand. Humphries's attorney appeared with information that the approval of the requisition had been suspended by the Governor, and that habeas corpus proceedings were pending.

A warrant for kidnaping was hastily sworn out, and a couple of deputies started after the Texan, who had been seen with his prisoner and a guide, all mounted, heading eastward. But the trail was lost in the Chiricahua Mountains and the hunt had to be abandoned.

Today Sheriff Denham courteously reported to the Cochise county authorities the safe arrival of himself and prisoner on Texan soil. Guided by a trusted cowboy, the party had struck out from Tombstone over the Chiricahua Mountains, avoiding all settlements. On the second day the line of the Southwestern Railway was struck, near the New Mexican border, over a hundred miles away. There a train was flagged and boarded within a few hours.

On the way Humphries induced the Sheriff to loosen his bonds. Choosing his time well, the prisoner turned his horse's head and attempted to escape. The Sheriff caught up, after a two-mile chase, and hammered Humphries into submission with the butt of a revolver. All the rest of the long and hard journey was made with the prisoner tied hand and foot to the saddle.

When the trip was half done the party was held up by Private Wheeler of the Arizona Rangers, to whom Humphries appealed for help from the kidnapers. Wheeler's suspicions had been aroused by Denham attempting to avoid him, but he was reassured by sight of the Sheriff's credentials, and allowed the party to proceed. Humphries, alias Hughes, is wanted in Texas for cattle stealing. His attorney here claims the charge is a trumped-up one, to bring Humphries back to Texas for service in an important civil action.

WANTED, DEAD OR ALIVE.

A man hunt is on in the mountains of Graham county, where Joe Roberts, an outlaw, is being chased by cowboys and officers of the law, who have announced their intention of taking him, dead or alive. Roberts has been wanted by the Sheriff for some time. Thursday he was surrounded by a dozen cowboys just as he had finished killing a steer that did not belong to him. Roberts abandoned his horse and succeeded in escaping up a steep hillside. The cowboys took several shots at him, but admit they did not care to kill him. Word was sent to Clifton, and soon Deputy Sheriffs Bailey and Wilson were on the scene of the episode, near the mouth of Blue River. The trail was easily taken up, as Roberts wore high-heeled cowboy boots. The trail led to a cabin, whose owner, at first inclined to shield the fugitive, finally told that he expected him back from hiding at dark. At nightfall Roberts appeared, but saved his bacon by getting between the two deputies, who had been watching the house from different points. A dozen shots or more were fired. At one time the outlaw fired his rifle at such short range that Bailey saved his life only by knocking up the muzzle of Roberts's rifle. But Roberts escaped again. A large posse from Clifton took up the hunt early next morning, but the chase had become more difficult, for the wily outlaw had evidently cut up his trousers to wrap the cloth around his feet, leaving practically no tracks to betray him. Several searching parties are now after Roberts, and it is believed that hunger will drive him in soon. He has sent word to Sheriff Parks and Deputy Boyle that he intends to shoot them on sight.

MINERS' PERILOUS RIDE.

It is probable that Bill Lunts and his partner, miners in the Copper Glance mine near Bisbee, have more gray hairs than they had a week ago. They had fired a number of fuses for blasting in the bottom of the 500-foot shaft, and had started for the surface in a hurry. They were being hoisted miner-style, each standing on the rim of the bucket, holding to the rope. In the bucket were a half dozen sticks of giant powder. Just as the men left the bottom, this powder caught fire, probably from the miners' candles. It happened that the powder was fresh and did not explode, but it burned fiercely, with sputterings that appeared to indicate that explosion was imminent. Of course it was impossible [illegible] the men had to stand [illegible] the surface was reached [illegible] themselves fortunate in [illegible] only burned.

Notes of the Game.

Oakland is here for another series this week. After that the Looloos go north for a five weeks' trip, and then return to finish the season in a four weeks' stay at home.

Spies has learned a few tricks about playing first base that ought to make all pitchers his friends. Instead of assuming that a first baseman is solely an accessory proposition, supposed to catch throws and stop such balls as may be hit toward the bag, Heinie plays unusually deep, relies on the pitcher to cover the base for all his throws, and endeavors to cut off all the dinky grounders that usually go for hits through the right half of the infield. His scheme worked like a charm yesterday. When Charlie Comiskey was playing first base, he always followed much the same style. A first baseman who works thus is truly an "infielder," for he can kill as many hits as anybody else. Big Dillon believes in much the same style of play, but does not usually go quite so far away as Heinie. With a weak fielding pitcher the position cannot be so played, but when a man like Corbett, or Hall, or Newton is twirling, he can be relied upon to help himself whenever it will cut down a safe shot against him.

Ross was here, there and everywhere in left field yesterday. The lad is as fast as the proverbial bullet and getting hits in his territory seemed an impossibility.

Toman is getting back to his old form again. He made one assist yesterday that robbed Devereaux of what looked very much like a hit.

O'Hara got gay in the fifth and tried to steal home, but Schwartz fouled the ball off and he had to go back. The dodge was exploded and Willie did not try to repeat it. He came dangerously near scoring on the play.

Hoy pulled down a hard shot on Moskiman again yesterday. Every time Doc plays against the Looloos, Hoy takes a hit or two from him by some crack catch in center field.

Moskiman was given his error on a bad throw after Smith at first in the third inning. It hit the ground in front of Messerly and bounded to the bleachers, Smith going to third.

Big Ed Hurlburt caught a good game yesterday, and has proved himself a valuable man in the present condition of the team.

Cap. Dillon still walks rather lame. He is likely to be out of the game some time unless his knee takes an unexpected turn for the better. As long as Spies is playing in his present form and the team is hitting so well, Dillon can take a much-needed rest without crippling the Looloos seriously. His big stick and his clever batting are missed, however.

Hoy came dangerously near getting three hits. What should have been the third was a mile a minute liner to right, which went right into Messerly's mitt. It was cleverly caught. Hoy never played better ball in his life than he is showing now.

Umpire Jack O'Connell yesterday was forced to stop the game and ask the chief of the Chute Park police to eject a fan who was using offensive language directed at the judge of play. Big Jack was perfectly right.

SENATORS TAKE TWO.

WHITEWASH COAT IN SECOND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Sacramento took both games easily today. Phil Knell and his slow kinks were a mystery in the afternoon. Whalen was off color, and was hit like a punching bag and was responsible for most of the Senators' runs. The best the locals could do was to get a man on third in the first inning. Cheney was in the points for San Fracisco in the morning. He was very wild. Sacramento's fielding was bad, but San Francisco could not get hits when needed. Scores:

MINOR BASEBALL.

GAMES ON LAND LOTS.

The Pirates yesterday met and defeated the Boyle Heights Stars on their home grounds on Mission road, by the score of 14 to 4. The features of the game were a home run by McClure, the heavy batting of the Pirates, and the pitching of Black. A one-act comedy was enacted in the last half of the ninth inning, in which "Shorty" Lucas, the catcher, a past master in the art of "balloon releasing" essayed to do the twirling for the Pirates, Black, the regular pitcher, playing the field. To Black's credit there was only five hits made off his delivery. The Pirates are open to games, and would be pleased to hear from any first-class amateur team in the city. Address all communications to J. W. Lane, No. 923 East Forty-seventh street, city, or 'phone Pico 1334. The line up follows:

Black	pitcher	Steele
"Shorty" Lucas	catcher	Arguello
Orr	first base	Lilley
Tremble	second base	Kutz
Williamson	shortstop	Earhart
Salyer	third base	Rivera
McClure	center field	Lucro
Lane	right field	C. Lucro

The Hamburgers easily beat the Pete Dalleys at Prager Park, score 24 to 5. The Hamburgers want games with any amateur club in Southern California. Charles Bennett, card Hamburgers, is manager.

The Appeals won from the Pico Heights Stars at Washington and Figueroa streets yesterday morning by a score of 18 to 8. Battery for the winners was Hayes and Garrity.

SAN PEDRO-TRILBYS.

In a fast game of ball played at San Pedro yesterday afternoon, the locals defeated the Trilbys of Los Angeles by a score of 16 to 4. The visitors did good work, but were outclassed by the fast Patrans. Schofield of the locals and Woodyard of the Trilbys each made home runs.

SANTA BARBARA-ALHAMBRA.

The Santa Barbara baseball team defeated the Alhambras yesterday afternoon by a score of 11 to 9. The Alhambras have been defeated in five straight games by Santa Barbara, which is the only team to win such a victory over them this season.

MERCANTILE BASEBALL.

A 18 game between the Union Hardware and Metal Company and Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson, was played off at Prager Park yesterday morning, the U.H. & M. Co. winning. This would have been the last game of the league for this season had the H.M. & S. won, but the U.H. & M. Co. and F. W. Braun Company teams are now tied for first place. This tie game will be played off next Sunday morning.

The heavy hitting of the U.H. & M. Co. was the feature of the game, they having a home run, a three-base hit, three two-base hits and ten singles to their credit. The following is the score:

W. S. Samuelson and J. Benter did some fine rolling with the five-inch balls in a game of Coliseum fats.

REDLANDS BOY KILLED ON MOUNTAIN TRAIL.

ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF RIFLE CAUSES A TRAGEDY.

Isaac Hewitt Shot Through the Body While Leading Horse Over Place too Steep to Ride—Companion Travels Many Miles for Assistance.

REDLANDS, Sept. 20.—On a narrow trail in the heart of the wildest part of the mountains about fifty miles east of Redlands, a tragedy was enacted about noon yesterday, which cost a Redlands boy his life. Isaac Hewitt, aged about 18, was shot and instantly killed by the discharge of his own rifle. The full particulars have not been received here owing to the remoteness of the place, but there is no doubt that the killing was accidental.

Accompanied by Leslie Gay, a youth of about his own age and his schoolmate for years, Hewitt was traveling through the mountains, returning from a hunting trip which had lasted several days. They were descending the side of a mountain, following a narrow trail, and as it was much too steep to ride safely, they were walking and leading their horses, their pack animals following them. Gay was in the lead a considerable distance, but not out of sight of his companion. Suddenly he heard the crack of a rifle and looked around in time to see Hewitt fall. He ran back to him and found him lying alongside the trail near his horse. He was unable to speak, and died in less than a minute.

The bullet had struck him in the right side and passing through the body penetrated the heart. Tethering the other animals, Gay mounted his horse and rode with all possible speed to Seven Oaks, twenty-two miles east of Redlands. The distance from the scene of the accident to Seven Oaks is about twenty-six miles, and so rough and steep is the road that it was after nightfall before he came to any place from which he could secure assistance.

C. H. Hobart of Redlands was at Seven Oaks, and with L. C. Haight went back with Gay to the place where he had left the body of his companion. They were expected to return to Seven Oaks tonight, but up to 11 o'clock they had not reached that point, and may not reach there before morning, because they are carrying the body on an improvised litter secured to two pack animals. The Coroner has gone to Seven Oaks to meet them, and upon their arrival there an undertaker will take charge of the remains and the party will then come to this city.

Hewitt, the victim of the accident, was one of the best-known young men of Redlands. He was the son of Mrs. Kate B. Hewitt. He graduated recently from the High School, and in school he stood high in his classes. He was a young man of excellent habits, and was universally popular. The arrangements for the funeral have not been made as yet.

SAN BERNARDINO.

REOPENING OF THE COURTS.

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 20.—The two Superior Coprts of the county will convene tomorrow after the summer vacation of six weeks. A large amount of civil and criminal business has piled up, and there are busy days ahead for Judges Oster and Bledsoe, who will sit in banc tomorrow morning in Department Two and call a lengthy calendar.

One of the most important cases to be set for trial is that of William Boxall, for the shooting of his uncle, Charles R. Loyd. At the time this case is set for trial, it is probable the charge against Horace G. Little and Fred Lloyd, of conspiracy with Boxall in the shooting, will also be paced on the calendar.

NEW SHOOTING GROUNDS.

It is possible that the members of the San Bernardino Gun Club will perfect arrangements with the crack shots of Highland to establish the shooting grounds on Pepper avenue, just south of Harbin Springs, on the line of the electric road. This would be a more central ocation, besides possessing other advantages over the present site. The close result of the shoot last Friday at Riverside, which was participated in by Riverside, Redlands and San Bernardino, has aroused lively interest as to the outcome of the next shoot, which will be held here about the middle of October.

MINOR MENTION.

The Traction Company will establish a branch office at Highland this week, which will be connected with the main office here by a private telephone wire.

Tuesday marks the opening of the Jewish new year. Special services will be held, and most of the Hebrew business houses will be closed all day.

The Santa Fé machinists empoyed in the company's shops here, have asked for a rise in wages of from $3.50 to $3.30 a day. The helpers to the boilermakers want a raise of from $1.90 to $2.

It is probable that the Supervisors will tomorrow adopt a resolution to advertise for bids for the construction of a free road from the valley to the top of the mountains north of San Bernardino.

Architect Goff is preparing plans for an addition to the County Jail, which will cost approximately $15,000.

Miss Greta Spangler is visiting friends in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Benjamin Davis and family have returned from an outing at Long Beach.

Miss Lulu Dunham is visiting friends in Pasadena.

Mrs. S. Stote is visiting friends in Los Angeles.

W. W. Brison and W. Russell left yesterday for Bear Valley, on a week's hunting trip.

Miss Leola Allen left yesterday on a pleasure trip to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. William Newton of Los Angeles are visiting relatives here.

F. A. Reed left today with a party of workmen for Dale to build a road from the camp to his mines, about two miles distant, where he believes he has struck it rich.

The Supervisors will tomorrow fix the tax rate for the coming year. It will probably be about $1.70 on the $100 inside of cities and $2.10 outside of cities.

UPLAND.

CITRUS ASSOCIATION MEETS.

UPLAND, Sept. 20.—The sixth annual meeting of the Upland Citrus Association was held Saturday in their packing-house at Upland. This is the largest of the eight exchange associations in the Ontario district. Its shipments last season were 378 cars of oranges, an increase of 61 per cent. over the previous season's shipments. For the fruit sold it has paid in cash to its members $141,623.30. This shows an average payment to members on all varieties, grades and pools of $1.57 per 100 pounds, and an average on navels alone of all grades and pools of $1.54 per 100 pounds.

As far as known, the highest price obtained this season for a car of navel oranges from California was realized for car No. 4182, containing 362 boxes of Upland Quail navels, which was shipped June 10, and sold in Boston for $1355.75, and netted at Upland after deducting freight, ice, etc., $944.61.

The former board of directors was elected without change, James L. Paul, president; L. S. Dyar, vice-president; H. E. Bartlett, J. Dundas and A. P. Harwood. Charles D. Adams was reelected secretary and manager.

Resolutions were adopted similar in tenor to those adopted Friday at the citrus meeting at Ontario, commending the action of the Southern California Fruit Exchange in assisting to form the California Fruit Arency.

SANTA ANA TO VOTE ON MUNICIPAL BONDS.

SEVERAL IMPORTANT PROPOSITIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION.

Success of School and Fire Department Issues Conceded but Those for City Hall and City Lighting System Meeting With Opposition.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 20.—The election for the proposed $150,000 bond issue, which is to be held one week from tomorrow, is a topic of absorbing interest in Santa Ana municipal affairs at the present time. The issue proposes bonds of $12,000 for a new schoolhouse in the Fourth Ward; $5000 for additional equipment and electric-alarm system for the fire department; $20,000 for a City Hall, to be built on the recently-acquired lot on the corner of Third and Main streets, and $60,000 for a municipal electric light and power plant. It is conceded that the school and fire department bonds will carry by comfortable majorities, as they are regarded as absolute necessities. As regards the other two propositions, however, there is some opposition to their passage.

The City Hall bonds are meeting with considerable opposition from parties who do not favor building at this time, when labor and materials are costly, while others are opposing the scheme who do not favor the site selected for the building.

The sentiment in favor of municipal lighting is less pronounced than it was last winter, when the movement had its inception, and it is regarded by many as extremely improbable that $60,000 will be voted for this purpose, especially as the existing company has given notice of its determination to wage war, as a purely business proposition, with any company, municipal or otherwise, which shall make its appearance in the field. Interest in the election warrants the forecast of a large vote at the polls.

LOCALETTES.

A meeting of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce on the right of way of the Los Angeles electric road was held yesterday, but little business transacted owing to the absence of members of the committee from Garden Grove, and inability of Mr. Branch of the Pacific Electric Railway Company to be present. The committee will work this week without delay in arranging for the right of way.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 20.—Joseph S. Bordwell, a former resident of Riverside, but now of Cananea, Mex., and Miss Anna Alden Dorothy Rice of this city, were united in marriage at 7:30 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride's parents, Capt. and Mrs. C. T. Rice, on Brockton avenue, in the presence of a number of invited guests. The outdoor ceremony was performed by Rev. E. F. Goff, and the fear that unfortunately prevailed, did not in any degree mar the pleasure of the occasion. The bride and groom stood on a rug of flowers, the American and Mexican colors forming an effective background. Capt. and Mrs. Rice were assisted in receiving the guests by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gruwell, Miss Helen Seger, Miss Doris Heap, Miss Bertha Locke, Miss Nellie Vandegrift and D. V. Noland. VENTURA.

SLOT MACHINES MUST GO.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, Sept. 20.—Santa Paula is to be rid of its slot machines. The owners of slot machines are ready to fall in with the views of the citizens, who have declared in mass meeting that they have had enough of the thieving gambling devices, and now stand ready and willing to throw the machines out of their places of business and thus rid the community of them without putting the people to the trouble of going to law over the matter. There are but three saloons in Santa Paula, but the town regrets, nineten slot machines. The saloon men feel that Santa Paula may rise up against their traffic at any time and that it is just as well to side in with the people on this slot-machine question, and get rid of their machines as the public desires.

VENTURA BREVITIES.

Bert Browne of this city was installed as county superintendent of the Sunset company, vice "Buster" Browne of Los Angeles, who has held the position for several months. SANTA BARBARA.

MAY CALL STRIKE OFF.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 20.—The recent action of the Building Trades Council in decuaring that union men affiliated with it might work on jobs with non-union plumbers, has caused considerable comment in labor circles, and is liable to lead to trouble with the plumbers' union. At the time of the plumbers' strike with the Ott Hardware Company, and the lock-out of firemen employed by other firms, the local plumbers' union was not connected with the Building Trades Council. The union was urged to join after the trouble and did so, believing that the Trades Council would order its members on sympathetic strike with the plumbers. The last action of the council is a decided throw-down to the plumbers' union, and now that non-union plumbers are doing the work of the city, the striking plumbers have no chance whatever.

Some of the plumbers strenuously object to the action of the council, realizing that every mechanic is allowed the privilege of working except the plumbers. This being the case, it is probable that the plumbers will declare their strike off and consent to work with non-union men.

SANTA BARBARA BREVITIES.

Mayor George S. Edwards will be a candidate for reelection next December. Mr. Edwards was the only candidate in the field at the last election, and a short time ago he was petitioned by about 400 voters to run again.

Frank Jaynes of San Francisco, general superintendent of the western division of the Western Union Telegraph Company, will spend a few days at the Potter, where his family have been for the past two days.

PATIENCE.

I hear you complaining, dearest,
You have ever too much to do;
Your temper is worn with trying
To make old things look new;
You sew for the little children,
You mend for the rollicking boys,
You were never a shirk, and you fret
and work,
Till your life is shorn of joys.

If the day were longer, dearest!
If you never need go to bed!
But the time goes racing by you,
Till the hurrying weeks have sped,
And your basket's overflowing,
And your tasks are never done—
Poor, weary friend, will they never end
Till the sleep of death is won?

It's time you are needing, dearest?
Ah, yes! but there's time to spare,
If you'd let your Father carry
One end of your load of care,
If you'd tell Him all the trouble,
And ask from His tender hand
The gift of His peace, your pain would cease;
His way you would understand.

There is time for loving, dearest;
If we take the time there is,
And fill that up with sweetness,
Whatever beyond we miss.
Let the little frocks be plainer,
Let the dust alone for a while;
Let the good man see how blithe it can be,
His home, in your tender smile.

Get out in the sunshine, dearest;
There is time for that, be sure—
If you'll only let the flowers
And the birds your steps allure,
Go out in the sunshine, dearest—
And bring it back with you;
Don't sit in the gloom, when His lilies
bloom,
And His bending skies are blue.
—[Margaret E. Sangster.

Not What Bill Expected.

In preaching funeral sermons clergymen often have a hard course to steer, but here is an instance where it was all plain sailing:

The Rev. E. B., who flourished in a rural district in the west of England a good many years ago, was a strictly honest, but painfully frank, old man. One day he was approached by one Bill M., a man of doubtful reputation, who said:

"Look'ee here, parson, I want to make a request of 'ee, an' 'tis this. I want 'ee to promise you'll preach my funeral sermon, if so be ye outlive me."

"Why, certainly, Bill—certainly."

"An' I want 'ee to preach it from the words, 'An honest man is the noblest work of God.'"

"I'll do it, Bill—I'll do it for you with pleasure," replied the parson. "And I'll add that I'm sorry there's such a very poor specimen in the coffin."—[Tit-Bits.

That fruit is sometimes damaged by spraying no experienced orchardist denies, and the same can be said of the orchards which have been carelessly treated by the fumigator. Careless operators produce disastrous results by both methods.

AFRICAN FLY.

Horticultural Commissioner Strong was in Covina on Thursday, and in company with Deputy Horticultural Commissioner A. M. Seeley, visited a number of ranches where colonies of the Scutellista Cyanea had been liberated during the past summer. He was most enthusiastic over the success which had been achieved. He found the colonies strongly established and multiplying at an astonishing rate. In orchards where one colony had been liberated in June, he found that they had spread over ten acres and were making havoc among the black scale.

GLENDORA.

NO FREE CONVEYANCE.

GLENDORA, Sept. 20.—Just before the close of the last session of Citrus Union High School, the question of running a "bus for the convenience of the High School pupils was discussed, as a large number who attend the school live at a considerable distance from the schoolhouse. According to the plan suggested some responsible person was to drive from some central point in Glendora to the schoolhouse, arriving there shortly before 9 o'clock each day, and was to call for the pupils in the evening. But the probable cost of running the 'bus seemed to be too much to be met by private subscription, so it was suggested that the district could pay a part of the expenses out of the school fund. The trustees of the school were consulted in the matter, and they expressed themselves as willing to help the plan along provided there was nothing illegal in using the public school funds in this way. The opinion of Deputy District Attorney James was obtained in regard to the legality of the proceeding, and he gave it as his judgment that the district funds could not be used for that purpose.

The boys of the High School have organized an athletic association. It is called the C.A.A. The following are the officers: Gerald Cullen, president; Glen Odell, vice-president; Bert Mendricks, secretary; George Kamphiffner, treasurer; Guy Smith, business manager.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church met at the residence of Mrs. L. M. LA Fetra to assist the Standard Bearers in sewing for the orphans in India, in response to an appeal from Miss Charlotte Haiman, the foreign missionary located at Rajputana Ajmer.

C. K. Berry, one of the owners of the Pacific Christian, preached at the Christian Church Friday night.

LONG BEACH.

EXPECT TO KEEP BAND.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 20.—The year's contract with the Long Beach Marine Band for music at the city pavilion will expire on the 28th inst. There seems to be no doubt that a contract for another year's service by that musical body will be closed before that time.

Three or four years ago the band was an indifferent sort of body, ambitious, and willing, perhaps, but lacking in the qualities which go with long-continued practice. As the town has grown there has been more and more work for the band to do, and the organization is now on a permanent basis, its members giving nearly their whole time to band work. Those who were raw recruits have by practice become expert in the manipulation of their instruments, and the playing of the band is the subject of many admiring comments.

Under the past year's contract there has been music nearly every afternoon and evening except on Mondays. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening there has been dancing. The dancing has yielded some revenue, and the balance of the money paid for the band's services has been through the Board of Trade. There were a good many damp and cloudy days last winter when it would be natural to think nobody would come out to attend the concerts, but there was seldom an afternoon when less than 500 people might be seen seated in the pavilion listening to the music. For the past year Prof. Douglas has conducted the band.

SEWER'S PROGRESS.

Construction of the last block of the main sewer of the drainage system which the city is building is under way, and the main will undoubtedly be completed within a short time. A contract has been let for the building of a septic tank west of town, where the city's sewage will be purified before it is discharged through the outlet of the sewer system.

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND.

CLOSING OF THE SEASON.

AVALON, Sept. 20.—Much to the regret of a large number of island visitors, the last open air concert of the Catalina band was given last evening. The attendance was large, almost the entire seating capacity of the benches being filled. The work of the band this season has received unstinted praise from the lovers of music. The standard of the music rendered was high, and only enough of the "popular" was given to prevent kicks from those who appreciate only that class of music. The closing programme rendered last evening, which was a fair sample of the summer's work, follows: March, "Under Fire" (Russell); waltz, "Jene Blut" (Straus;) overture, "Orpheus" (Offenbach;) grand selection, "Carmen" (Bizet;) "Pollywogs, a Rainbarrel Episode," Kamqermeyer;) "Alabama Coon," (arranged by Kammermeyer;) "Peer Gynt Suite" (Grier;) "Echoes from the Metropolitan Opera-house" (Moses;) "Anona" (Vivian Grey;) "Auld Lang Syne."

Just before the concluding number, Judge Allen wended his way to the platform, and in a very apt manner thanked the band for the pleasure they had given, and eloquently expressed the appreciation of those who had been favored, and in closing called for three cheers for the gentlemanly boys of the band, which were given with rousing good will."

As usual, at the conclusion of the concert the band adjourned to the pavilion, where they were greeted with a packed house, both inside and out, and here for two hours and a half they further demonstrated their goodfellowship and proficiency in their profession, giving out dance music until 11:30 p.m., when "Home, Sweet Home" announced the closing of the dance. Then there were more cheering and good-bys, and the pavilion was left dark, silent, deserted, until the return of another season.

The Hermosa made her last evening trip for the season last night, and hereafter there will be but one steamer daily, the Hermosa arriving at 12:45 a.m. and departing at 3:15 p.m. The exception to this schedule is that on Mondays and Thursdays, for the present, there will be a morning boat out from here at 7:15 o'clock.

ISLAND BREVITIES.

Gen. A. L. New and wife left this afternoon for Los Angeles, from which city they will depart tomorrow evening for Puget Sound, where the general has arranged for the opening of four wireless stations, the equipment of which he takes along with him.

At the Coroner's inquest yesterday on the body of Frank Snerman, who was killed by accident at Empire quarry, his San Francisco address was found, and a telegram there brought a request that the body of the unfortunate man be sent to H. F. Suhr & Co., No. 1137 Mission street, and it was accordingly forwarded by today's steamer.

The Luriine, Capt. Sinclair, sailed into the bay this morning.

EL MONTE.

William Gates, who recently sold his ranch here, has moved into El Monte and has taken rMs. Dobyn's cottage.

Walnut picking has begun, but the rush of the season will not be on for several weeks.

TERMINAL ISLAND.

HOUSEBOAT PARTY.

TERMINAL ISLAND, Sept. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jenkins entertained a number of their friends aboard their pretty new houseboat, which is the first of its kind to be built in these waters. The craft is novel in that it is made of two old street cars, elgantly fitted up and equipped with every possible comfort of home life. Jenkins is constructing a number of these houseboats.

Stories About Eagles.

Some years ago, Sir Charles Monsaunt witnessed, in Scotland a strange battle between an eagle and a stag, which completely disposed any theory that the ornithologist may put forward as to eagles not attacking large animals. The bird singled out from a herd a particular buck, which it succeeded in driving from the rest. It struck the animal repeatedly with its powerful wings, knocked it down and finally killed it. Baron Schroeder witnessed a still more remarkable spectacle. An eagle attacked a fawn in the highlands of Scotland. The cries of the little one were answered by its dam; which sprang upon the eagle and struck it repeatedly with its forefeet. Fawn, deer and eagle rolled headlong down a declivity and the bird was dislodged from its hold and the fawn rescued. But Sir Kenneth Mackenzie knows a more thrilling story than either of these, for, according to report, an eagle was rent in two during a battle in his forest at Gairloch, fixing its talons in the quarters of a roe the bird was dashed against a tree, to a branch of which it endeavored to hold to stay the flight of its captive. The bird was halved in an instant.

Many traditions are extant as to eagles having carried off and devoured children. In the north of England the legend is perpetuated by the name of many an inn, the sign, "The Eagle and the Child," being common. The most recent case bearing close scrutiny appears to be one which occurred in South Africa. A Boer farmer living on the veldt just beyond Barberton, whose stock had been harried by eagles, lay in ambush for the aerial robbers, and saw one of them descend and carry off the five-year-old child of one of the Kaffir servants. He shot the eagle, which, with the child still clutched in its grip, fell into a thorn bush. The bird was dead when picked up but the baby was little hurt. The eagle measured nine feet from tip to tip of the wings. Other stories are told to a similar end, but appear less credible than this one.

Two eagles will stalk a covert in concert. While one conceals itself the other beats about the bushes with a great screaming, driving out its quarry for the hidden eagle to swoop down and make an end of it. An even more insidious method has been observed, when an eagle, detecting a sheep on the edge of a precipice, flew at it, screaming shrilly and, with a forceful beat of wing, hurled it into the valley below, where it could devour it at its leisure. There is good reason for believing, after all, the ancient legend as to the manner in which Aeschylus, the Greek poet, met his death. It is said that an eagle dropped a turtle on his bald head. Algerian travelers are familiar with the sight of eagles carrying turtles and tortoises to a height and dropping them upon rocks to break the creatures' shells and render the flesh accessible.—[Montreal Star.

The Untrammeled Girl.

In former generations we were told that girls kicked over the traces because they were curbed in too tightly. Now not even a ribbon holds them, and they are galloping on at a pace which leaves chaperons and mothers breathlessly behind, and each girl seems to be becoming a law unto herself, only occasionally hampered by some big fence, which will probably be jumped if the temptation is great enough, and if there is reasonable possibility of her being able to crawl back unperceived.—[Ladies' Field.

ADVISED SHOOTING, DENOUNCED POLICE.

Trouble Makers and Anarchists Hot in Their Campaign Against Chief Elton—Incendiary Meeting of So-called "Free Speech League."

THE meeting of the so-called "Free Speech League" at No. 125½ South Spring street yesterday afternoon was a demonstration against the police department.

All the agitators, rioters, boycotters, trouble makers and incendiaries, who are held in check by the police, who are arrested for rioting and are prevented from deeds of violence by police vigilance, are combining in a crusade against Chief Elton—and some well-meaning but misled men are helping them on.

It galls the Los Angeles mischief makers to think that they cannot throttle industry or frighten business men here as they have done in San Francisco, and they rage furiously whenever they get together. The noisy but impotent wrath of these dangerous characters shows what the city has been spared on account of police vigilance. One of the speakers yesterday advocated shooting. Another of the warm denouncers of Chief Elton was Francis Drake, editorial writer on the Record, which leads in the campaign against the Chief.

"I want to get arrested, and the sooner the better. I want to get into court. I want to fight. I have been here since March and have not been arrested yet. Well, the blear-eyed, rum-soaked police officers will get the chance in the near future, for I am going to express my views of the rottenness of this city and that insignificant herd of officials infesting the City Hall, and I am going to express them on the street corner."

A test case is to be made of the constitutionality of the city ordinance prohibiting public speaking on the streets of this city without a permit, and H. B. Tripp, late of Denver, is anxious to play the martyr role in the little fiasco. He delivered the above boomerang at the meeting of unionists, agitators, boycotters and socialists yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by one Van Rensslaer, whose dinner had not fully digested. He was so cantankerous that his words stuck in his throat.

"However that may be, gentlemen, you must not cheek about this free-speech business, for if you do you won't be able to speak when the time comes. Take it cooly, gentlemens, take it cooly."

Those were the most sensible words uttered at the meeting, and yet the "good men" didn't even get a vote of thanks.

Van Rensslaer went on to say: "This city is owned body and soul by two men, and the police department is their main corps of servants. I say this city is owned by just two men—Harrison Gray Otis and H. E. Huntington. Huntington has the city filled with switches, and if Otis can't switch the police into line, Huntington can."

Rev. C. W. Williams carried on the thought by saying: "The government of this city is a government which no man before his God should dare to sustain, and under the present political machine the government of the United States is of the same order, and if we do not hang together (degrading Patrick Henry) those who are running this city government will hang you."

"I read The Times," Rev. Williams continued; "you bet I do, and I advise every man here to do so. You must in order to fully realise what you are up against. Read it, but don't let it get your nickel."

DRAKE DOWN ON ELTON.

Francis Drake, president of the Los Angeles County Council of Labor, in the course of his remarks, and they were all coarse, said: "If George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry and Abraham Lincoln were in this city today Chief of Police Elton would arrest them and put them on the rock pile for thinking on the steps of the City Hall.

"This ordinance makes the police force a high court of appeal to decide what religion is, a court whose only religion is the beer mug and the money bag."

H. X. Bauer, who was probably the most inflammable bundle thrown on the fire, approached his climax with: "If you can't vote straight, you can't shoot straight, and you want to learn to do both."

Having worked his fellow-men up to an intoxicating of mutiny against the laws of the land, he filled the cup of bitterness to overflowing and offered it to them in this wise: "This is not the fight of today; it is not the fight against a municipality; it is a fight of the future and a fight of the union. All over this land meetings similar to this are laying the foundation of the road which will lead us to victory. It is not a fight which can be finished in a day; it may take years, but victory must come.

"FIGHT, FIGHT! SHOOT, SHOOT!"

"The one question before us is how is this to be accomplished, this question at hand, whether by recourse to the courts through a test case; whether by means of the referendum which is given by the laws of this city; or by other means. There is but one way by which it can be accomplished and that is through union; a united force backed financially. Dig down in your pockets, organize permanently, stand fast and fight to the bitter end. Fight! Fight! And if need be, shoot, shoot!"

Listen to Smith of the teamsters' union, who delivered the first lesson in the lay reading of yesterday: "This platform upon which I stand is similar to all other platforms in this country, and the point of it is that there are two vacant chairs. Awake to your senses or those two vacant chairs will be occupied by blue-coated servants of the master of the whip hand, and you will not be allowed to so much as think in this hal where you are now assembled to stand for your rights of free speech. It is so in Germany, for I have seen it, and it will be so here. Now is the time. You cannot wait. This unconstitutional ordinance is not being enforced now, but let it go quietly along and when the voting time comes around, the time when we must put every available man on the street corners to support the rights of the down-trodden, of submerged humanity, the power of the law will be there and you will be denied the right to breathe, by the corrupted officers of the law."

Among others who openly denounced Chief Elton were Rev. F. I. Wheat, Rev. C. W. Williams, Dr. J. A. Stevens and J. T. Rogers. The whole tenor of the meeting was against the Chief and his men.

FUTURE TROUBLE.

An executive committee of seventeen men and three women was appointed to draft the patform of the organization to be known as "The Free Speech League." A celebration was taken up.

A mass meeting was called for next Sunday afternoon and an entry of future trouble was tacked on the political doors of the city. This was the most anarchistic and threatening meeting ever held in this city, and a hobbed has been started which will bear close watching.

WORK OF RESCUE HOME.

The meeting of the members of the Rescue Home at No. 145 North Main street last night was in the nature of an ovation to Will Trotter, the superintendent, who took up the work of his position just one year ago. Dan Strong spoke of the splendid work of Superintendent Trotter and his assistant superintendent, George Trotter, his brother. During the year over 500 converts have been claimed by the mission, having been uplifted from all classes and conditions of humanity. Twenty-five new converts testified last night, and the little mission is undoubtedly doing a good work. Dr. J. Junkins baptized Miss Jennie Brown.

The part of the gas stove that cost most is the oven.

How much does it cost?

It takes at least five minutes to heat it before you begin to bake or roast; five minutes of g s, and nothing to show for it!

Varicocele, Rupture and Rectal Diseases.

Varicocele, piles and rupture are the principal causes of vital failure and organic weakness annoying men. We have found by actual experience and facts that ninety cases of vital weakness in every hundred have some degree of varicocele, rupture or rectal trouble, and that when the diseased condition is cured the vital power is restored, thus proving to a certainty the three most common causes of so-called weakness. I have been giving my time for twenty years to this subject and speak from the facts found by treating many thousands of cases. I have been in Los Angeles 10 years and can show abundance of evidence of my success. Any man who has Varicocele or Rupture or any rectal disease can satisfy himself by calling at my offices, where he can get a strictly free examination; he can also get the names and addresses of plenty of prominent, reliable business men here in the city who have been cured by my treatment. They will be glad to talk to you if you earnestly desire to be cured. No man seeking relief from such conditions should employ any doctor without seeing a good number of his cured cases. Any pretender can advertise, but only the successful, genuine specialist can show you the indisputable cured cases. Don't give your money or time to any man who does not show you the proof of his success by plenty of actual cured cases. My time for a permanent cure of varicocele or piles is one week, and for rupture two weeks. I never treat these cases by mail. I must have the patient under my personal supervision for the time named above. He can then be discharged forever cured. I ask no man to pay a dollar until he knows for a certainty that he is permanently cured. I furnish room and board in a first class sanitarium, with graduated nurses in all cases requiring same, free of extra charge. My prices are only what the patient is able to pay.

Write for our colored plates showing diseased condition.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Beer and Whiskey.

J. F. Vial was arrested at the saloon at No. 217 Alisо street yesterday evening by plain-clothes officers for selling beer and whisky. He was released on depositing $100 cash bail.

Father from Paris.

Very Rev. C. Demion, C. M., of Paris, representative of the Superior General of the Congregation of the Mission, has been a guest the past week of the Vincentian fathers at St. Vincent's College.

Fire from Gas Heater.

The instantaneous combustion of a gas heater in the residence of F. J. McCormick, No. 250 South Bunker Hill avenue, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, caused a loss by fire to the building of $100, and to the contents of $200.

Scared Him Off.

The Boyle Heights Holiness Chrch and the "Texas Jumpers" have been holding a tent meeting on North Chicago street last week. If the results are commensurate with the noise the outfit has made there isn't much show for Old Nick on the highlands hereafter.

Pickpocket in Tells.

Juan Ariaga, a light-fingered operator, was arrested yesterday morning on San Fernando street for a job of "dipping" in which Guillermo Pico, a Bartolle farmer, lost a silver watch. Ariaga, it is alleged, picked Pico's pockets earlier in the day and pawned the watch. A felony charge will be preferred against him.

Temporary Church.

The temporary quarters for St. Agnes' Church, at the corner of Adams and Vermont avenue are well under way, and it is expected will be ready for the holding of public services by the first Sunday in October. Rev. Clement Molony, the pastor, has been making a canvass of the parish, and will soon have all departments of church work organized here. The next work undertaken in the building line will the erection of a parochial residence.

Smith's "Fair Fight."

Nora Denson, an inmate of the brothel at No. 317 Alisо street, was taken to the Receiving Hospital at 3 o'clock yesterday morning with a gash in the scalp above the forehead made by a rock thrown with wicked intent by a young "drunk" named Frank E. Smith. Smith was taken to jail handcuffed and clamoring for a chance to "have a fair fight. Booze got the best of him before he could make his "fair fight," and he was dragged through the jail door limp as a dead cat. He will be tried on a battery charge.

Popular South Park.

Since the opening of the South Park-avenue electric line Vernon's beauty-spot, South Park, has sprung into popularity, and is attracting much attention from visitors from all parts of the city. Foreman E. R. Reese says he has from 250 to 300 visitors each Sunday. There are four men employed on the park work now. On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Reese entertained a party of their friends with a moonlight picnic at the park. A musical programme was rendered by the Venetian Ladies' Juartette.

Cleaning Vacant Lots.

As a result of last week's work of the South Maple Avenue Improvement Association ten vacant lots were cleaned up on East Thirty-first street, between Maple avenue and San Pedro street. T. L. O'Brien, president of the association, states that he has made arrangements whereby cleaning will be done for $1 a lot if lot owners will send him the money and the address of the property to be cleaned to his residence, No. 413 East Thirty-fifth street. The territory involved extends south to, and including Thirty-first street between Main and San Pedro streets. The association will meet Thursday evening at Jefferson and Trinity streets.

Hoyt's Great Success.

Hoyt's satire, "A Texas Steer," comes to the Mason Operahouse tonight and for the two following nights. The company is substantially the same as the one that has rendered the comedy for a number of years. Milt G. Barlow is playing the Minister to Dahomey; James A. Devlin appears as Maverick Brander. He has been a member of the Hoyt companies for many years. Miss May Bretonne, a charming young actress, is the Texas maiden, Bossy; Will T. Chatterton is the Major Yell; William Marbie, Jr., appears in the character of Bransy Gall; Thomas Haskett is the Capt. Bright; Josephine Fox is Mrs. Brander. The reserved-seat sale opens this morning for the Miller-Anglin engagement at the Mason Operahouse. The repertoire is "The Taming of Helen," Thursday; "The Aftermath," Friday; "Camille," at the matinée, and "The Devil's Disciple" Saturday evening.

BREVITIES.

Millinery announcement. Miss E. C. Collins, 249 S. Broadway, announces her fall opening on Tuesday and Wednesday next. In preparing for this occasion, which has for many years been the leading millinery event of Los Angeles, every effort has been made to bring to her customers the most desirable features of the great Parisian and New New York displays. Miss Collins each season employs a commissionaire in Paris, and this season she has imported through him the largest number of millinery models she has ever displayed. Designs from all the old and famous millinery modistes will be shown as well as several from the new millinery idol of Paris, Mme. Georgette. Miss Collins's buyer and trimmers have recently returned from New York, and as they remained in market until after the advent of the "Fashion Show" and the banquet season, the very latest importations and displays were seen. The Collins tailored hats this season will be a strong feature. The designs of these hats are obtained in Paris, modified blocks of the same are made exclusively for Miss Collins in New York, and her best trimmers finish them. All manufactured tailored hats have a sameness. Every Collins tailored hat has an individual "touch." A large and beautiful line of medium priced hats, toques and bonnets will be shown. Only salesladies who are themselves first-class trimmers are employed, thus assuring for each customer that individuality of style which has made Miss Collins's store famous. The stock this season is exceptionally large and elegant, and having been purchased largely of manufacturers, and direct importers, the prices will be most reasonable. Invitation general. No cards.

Real estate advertisers and others: Hereafter all real estate and other classified "want" advertisements for Sunday insertion must be in The Times office not later than 11 o'clock Saturday night in order to be properly classified. All small advertisements received after this hour will be printed under a special heading of "Too late to Classify." Special request is made of those telephoning "Liners" to do so before 10 p. m. each night.

If you want to know all about Avalon and Catalina Island, who's there, and what's doing, send 50 cents to The Times office for a month's subscription to "The Wireless," Avalon's new daily, published by the Times-Mirror Company. It prints "All the News All the Time" concerning the enchanted isle, and tells big-fish stories every day.

Occidental College opens September 22. Building open 10-12 and 2-4 today. Academic department of High School grade. No overcrowding.

SURF AND CROAKERS ARE PRINCIPAL GAME.

FAIR CATCHES OF SMALL FISH AT SOUTHERN BEACHES.

Simon Spier Falls Overboard and Gets a Ducking—Yellowtail Plenty at Del Rey, but are Not Hungry—Bass at Breakwater—Yellowfins.

The shore fishermen had all kinds of excitement yesterday, but most of them made no sensational killings of fish.

At East San Pedro Simon Spier did a spectacular solo stunt by tripping over one of his oars and taking an impromptu dive overboard. Spier is horribly afraid of the water, but was rescued and fished out without any more danger than that of lacerated feelings. The water of the bay is invigoratingly cool at present. After he dried out somewhat, Spier proceeded to catch half a dozen medium-sized spotfin croakers and some other fish on the tide. Quite a number of boats were out in the bay and some had fair sport, but the average was only fair.

Out at the breakwater some nice sacks of rock bass and yellow-bellied bass were brought in. There was quite a turnout, for the breakwater last fall proved a very good place to fish about this time.

At Brighton Beach and Terminal the corbina contingent held forth all day and enjoyed a run of the small nippers, which have been prevalent at both resorts all this month. Robert Campbell caught a dozen and a two-and-a-half-pound halibut at Brighton. P. Lazarus, D. Botiller, M. and Abe Kremer and several others fished with about the same success. W. J. Holehan got a pair of nice rock bass off the wharf.

At Terminal Ed. Gerson and others caught good sacks of small corbina. A few good bass were landed off the wharf, mostly at the end.

The parties which went outside report the barracuda are becoming scarcer. At this time of the year these salt-water pickerel usually begin to hie themselves to the southward, though stragglers are taken at intervals until winter.

At Playa Del Rey, on the western coast, there were many big yellowtail prowling about all the morning, and they chased all other fish away, being full to such repletion that they did not care much about biting themselves. Two or three, and some bonita were taken by the hand-line contingent. Jerry Mullen and Billy Warden, who put in the day at Del Rey, had much fun with the big fellows. Warden went after one, using an eight-inch Spanish mackerel bait. After contemptuously flirting their tails at it for a while one big fellow finally grabbed it and started for the Short Line beach. Warden hung on and turned him; then he went to the piles, and a hand-line crank who did not have enough sense to get out of Warden's way, was responsible for his losing the fish.

The surf and yellowfin took a day off, though some good catches of the latter were made late Saturday. The Luckenbach family fished off the beach about half a mile this side of Manhattan, and caught a gunny bag full of good-sized yellowfins between dark and 9 o'clock at night.

Redondo, though well patronized, failed to produce many fish in proportion to the number after them. The fish taken were mostly small. Of late Del Rey has been a better place for yellowtail and halibut than Redondo. Several nice flatfish were landed at Playa yesterday morning.

Innumerable scattered schools of small fish keep the big fellows filled to the brim, which is one reason they do not bite with more avidity.

Cheapness isn't always economy—far from it—particularly so in the case of paint. You can get paint that costs less than Carrara in the first place, but what do you get?—old style lead paint that will crack, rub off, blister and fade out in two years at the most. Generally it only lasts one year. With Carrara it's different. When you get Carrara you get a paint that will NEVER crack, chalk, rub, peel, or blister.
Estimates furnished and work guaranteed for five years when done by the contractors we recommend.
